Theme

● What is it that you will remember about Beverly, Joe and Jane Norman? Is it the high tower which crowns the cream-colored buildings, or is it the thrill you get from watching the Norman victory flag climb cloudward under the Stars and Stripes? Is it cheering until you are hoarse at football games or the times when you suddenly realize how lucky we are to have that swim-gym?

Will you remember the classes, teachers, and tests, and will you recall the crowded halls between periods? Will the cafeteria and bread line, the "Highlights" and nomination assemblies, morning bulletins and the 3:10 passing bell stay in your memory?

Will you ever forget the Alma Mater and the fight songs, the school dances and your best friends, and the first day you saw the school that you were to belong to for the next four years?

Yes, you'll remember the buildings, teachers, and campus, but you will receive a far richer heritage from Beverly High. It is the invaluable memory of the Norman spirit—that feeling which linked you to every student in school—which will make you glad to look back and say proudly:

"When I graduated from Beverly, not only did I take with me the memories that will be valuable forever, but a part of me will always remain with all I ever knew at Normandy."

Board of Education

MR. BOWHAY

● Because of the many efforts made by the Board of Education to make Beverly High a school of which to be proud, the students owe each member of this board a vote of thanks. Since the war the direction of education has naturally been a much more difficult job, but in spite of this, Beverly has maintained its high standards and ideals.

The prime interest of the Board of Education is to see that the scholarship and the achievements of the students remain high, and to help us all do our best, the finest teachers are employed for our benefit. Since the labor shortages and war needs have become so acute, it has been a difficult task to keep the faculty at Beverly up to its usual excellence, but the Board of Education has been noticeably successful in the employment of the many new teachers whom we have on our faculty.

New this year is a course in airplane engines, and through the efforts of the Board of Education, equipment for the shops has been secured from the material; such as, parts, starters, and motors rejected by the Armed Forces. Another accomplishment was the meeting of the Board with leading citizens of Beverly Hills and neighboring districts to perpetuate the American ideals and traditions. In co-operation with the Navy, the V-12 program was sponsored again this year, along with several bond drives and war agency drives.

The members of the Board of Education are Mrs. Josephine H. Fitger, president; Mr. R. M. Dulin, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy C. Fess, Mr. Wiley N. Caldwell, and Mr. Howard W. Reynolds.

Administration

● The closing of the school year brings with it many memories which only yesterday were living realities to the students of Beverly Hills High School. It is now that you seniors are able to evaluate your experiences of the past four years in the light of the demands which will be made of you as well as the opportunities which will be yours. I am sure that each of you is finding that the activities in which you took part, the friendships you made, and the studies that you have completed will not only remain in your thoughts, but will also serve as guides for your future. To those of you who are graduating we extend our congratulations for your many accomplishments of the past four years and extend to you our sincere best wishes for your future success.

It is not enough to mention only the present graduates, for it is the responsibility of the students who will be here at Beverly during the coming years to carry on the traditions and ideals of your Alma Mater. At times this may be no small task. But it should be remembered that the worthwhile things of life very frequently come about by struggle and diligence to duties and responsibilities. Therefore it is for the present and future students of our school to continue to carry at a high level our standards of achievement.

● Beverly's student body, during Winter '43-'44, was called upon to make more sacrifices than ever before demanded of any other group. Bond programs, the Red Cross, the War Chest, and many other functions benefitted greatly through the unselfish and cooperative support given by the Norman student body.

While meeting these quotas, Normandy found time to improve its school spirit tremendously. Not only did this increase in spirit and sportsmanship help our athletic representatives, but it also served to increase the student pride in our school.

This was the major accomplishment made at Beverly during the semester, but it was not the only one. Also notable and encouraging was the interest taken by the Freshmen in student affairs. To enable incoming students to become better acquainted with our school, a Freshman booklet was published through the efforts of the Student Council and the journalism department.

The opportunities, the friendships, the traditions, and the faculty at Beverly High are too often taken for granted. We students, for the most part, fail to appreciate these factors until graduation draws near. The four pleasant years I have been at Beverly went all too fast. As I prepare to leave Normandy, however, I can truthfully say that the happiest days of my life were spent on this campus. I will never forget, nor will I ever deny, that Beverly Hills High School is tops!

Winter Council

● The Student Council is a group representing the entire student body. It includes the president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of each class, in addition to the student body officers. They are presided over by the president of the student body. Their jobs are important because this group is the governing body of the school, and in its hands lies the success of each semester's activities.

Perhaps the most important business of the semester was the launching of a very successful bond drive that went far above the set goal. To stimulate the sale of stamps and bonds, class competition and advertising campaigns were started, and noon activities with an admission price of at least one defense stamp were inaugurated.

This semester has seen more school spirit than has been shown at Beverly for quite a while. This has been largely due to the Council's move to have more yell leaders and more rally and pep assemblies.

Through the able leadership of our student body president, Beverly saw a very prosperous fall semester.

● As present conditions forced Beverly to become a "school at war," the Norman student body willingly dedicated itself to the promotion of the war effort. Ever mindful of the shocking effects of war, Norman citizens came to the realization that, as prospective American citizens, it is their duty to make democracy function in their school and show themselves that the democratic way is the successful way.

Awakened to this responsibility of having an effective student democracy, Normandy set out to establish an improved, workable, and active student government, which was truly representative in solving the many problems facing our school. At first, lack of interest in student government and poor school pride hampered the success of such an ideal of student unity and government, but now at the close of my graduating year, I sincerely believe every Norman has come to realize that Beverly can only be as fine as he makes it. Normans, a spirit of unity and pride prevailed here at school that I shall never forget.

In closing I acknowledge and thank a wonderful administration and faculty for their help and guidance. On behalf of the council and myself I thank also each and every Norman from the bottom of my heart for his willingness to cooperate, his friendliness, and undying patience. A student body president could ask no more!

LINCOLN SHERANIAN

Summer Council

● During the second semester the student council was especially active. Two major issues had to be dealt with and were handled excellently.

The first of these issues was the lack of pride the students had for the school and its property. A great deal of damage was being done to the property unnecessarily, and something had to be done about it because all the money needed for the repairs had to come out of our school funds, thus cutting down on school activities. The council launched a publicity campaign with speeches, editorials, and posters to attempt to discourage the vandals. The campaign was very successful.

The second issue was equally as important. Because of the lack of sportsmanship on the part of the students at Beverly and Santa Monica High School, all athletic relations had to be severed. In an attempt at reconciliation, a delegation of boys from Beverly and Santa Monica met to straighten out the affairs, and through their splendid efforts, athletic competition will be resumed again next year.

Girls' League

● Comprised of every girl at Beverly, the Girls' League is one of the most important organizations in the school. The officers, elected each semester by the girls, are assisted by a cabinet of appointed committee heads.

At the beginning of each semester a Big and Little Sister Party is given to acquaint the incoming freshmen with Beverly, and during each semester an assembly of interest to every girl is presented. Every year a Christmas Party for the students at Albion Street School is sponsored by the League, and the cabinet and "Santa Claus" take candy and presents to the children. Instead of the mothers' teas this year, class teas were given, the programs being planned by class representatives.

War-time restrictions forbade some of the activities of previous years, but under the direction of Miss Olive Jane McClure and Mrs. Leah Moore, the Girls' League has had a very successful year.

Boys' League

● The Boys' League is a body composed of every boy at Beverly and is headed by four officers elected each semester. The officers, representing all the boys at Beverly, promote activities of interest to everyone and try to further the spirit of friendliness that exists within the League.

Due to able leadership the League presented several athletic assemblies and, jointly with the Girls' League, staged the second annual Girls' and Boys' League Dance, held in the swim gym. It was one of the most successful dances to be held on campus.

In an effort to fulfill its purpose of furthering student body welfare, a campus "clean-up" campaign was sponsored by members of the League with the help of the Knights. Sponsored by Mr. William C. Morrison, the Boys' League has been very successful in promoting activities of interest to all the boys at Beverly.

Courts

- The student court is the judicial branch of our student government and is operated entirely by the student justices.

On the court three Senior A's and three Senior B's serve as justices. They are appointed by the president of the student body and approved by the Principal, Dean of Boys, and Dean of Girls. The court functions in cases of minor misdemeanors and sentences offenders to perform duties for the betterment of the campus. The majority of cases brought before the court are those of students who haven't cooperated with the extensive campus clean-up campaign. Other students who refuse cooperation in school activities are recommended for trial, and any violation (except misdemeanors that are grounds for expulsion) is under the jurisdiction of the court.

The justices for the first semester were Mike Simmons, chief justice, and Joyce Wiard, clerk. They were assisted by John Redfern, Burt Rogers, Burrell Hayes, and Frances Rogers. During the second semester Burt Rogers presided as chief justice. Other justices were Burrell Hayes, clerk; John Redfern, Thora Barbe, Braven Dyer, and Jean Roesch. Both semesters the court was under the faculty supervision of Mrs. Mary Herron.

Hall Guards and Bounds

● The efficiency of the bounds patrol and hall guard system was greatly improved this year. The boys who helped to maintain law and order at Beverly served this year, for the most part, without student recognition. Ladd Vincent and Volney Brown, commissioners of safety for the first and second semesters respectively, directed the activities which were under the faculty supervision of Mr. Bierke.

The hall guards—Dick Roodberg, Dick Newman, Howard Lipstone, Berton Levin, Louis Marienthal, Ronald Lipstone, Bob Stander, Dave Stone, Paul Smythe, Bob Burgy, and Malcolm Tedford—were capably directed by Captain Fred Kirr and Lieutenant Daniel Devor. The members of the bounds patrol were Ladd Vincent, Warren Emmerling, John Danis, Jim Shotwell, and Jim Will. With increased student cooperation their job was made much easier.

Because the school is responsible for students during school hours, it is necessary that they remain on bounds during lunch and between periods. The students have put themselves on the honor system in this respect, and because of this, the bounds patrol has operated only as a regulation body this year. Thanks are due to all of these boys.

Color Day

● Recalling days at Beverly, Joe Norman, played by Jerry Paris, and Jane Norman, by Suzy Ayers, reminisced at the Hollywood Canteen, where stunt night was being held. Varga girls in the persons of well-known Beverly males climaxed the act. After listening to Dick "Frank Sinatra" Beesemyer croon, Joe Norman turned to memories of his biology class. Imitating Dr. Frost, Bob Fagan told about primitive man and produced two early specimens in the forms of Chuck Burkett and Dave Bruns. Then an ill-fated explosion occurred, and the scene changed to an art class.

Jane Norman told Joe about the football and gym classes. Ann Burn led her female eleven, while a gym class attempted to go through its exercises. Next, the kids in detention held Joe's interest, as Paul Brett tried to keep his seventh period in order.

Relieved from detention, Joe strolled along Hollywood and Vine and then to Simon's, where he found life had grown more complex. When an air-raid quieted the hang-out, Joe took Jane to St. James Infirmary, where he met his zoot suit pals and listened to their swing classics. The curtain came down with the Seniors singing their class song written by Esther Engstrom.

Breaking a Color Day tradition, the Seniors were unable to wear their class sweaters.

Jimmie Higson, S'43, held the baton for musical numbers, while Miss Harriet Louise Touton directed the performance.

We'll Remember

As Freshmen

● Turning back the pages of our class history, we come to September, 1940, when we were strictly green freshmen. Among the remembrances of that first year are our Rose Bowl football game with Glendale, the student body cards, complete with unrecognizable pictures, and the mock presidential election, which Wendell Willkie won.

A spectacular aquacade introduced the new swim-gym. We were Bay League champs in football, won the Iron Man trophy, and enjoyed the Norman Newsreel. Beverly Beach lured Norman sunbathers, while the favorite places to go on dates were the Del Mar Club and Herbert's Drive-In afterward. We ran to class, searched for non-existent elevators, crammed for tests, and hummed the favorite tunes of the day—"Only Forever," "I'll Never Smile Again," "I Understand," and the "Hut Sut Song."

As Sophomores

● As sophisticated sophomores, we walked under the new arcade from the English wing to the gym, struggled through Luggage Day, and saw the tower clock installed. Our favorite date hangouts were the Palladium and Simon's. Songs we sang were "This Love of Mine" and "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

On December 8, bewildered by the lightning events of the past day, we gathered in an assembly and listened to President Roosevelt's war address on the radio. Sobered, we set about the task of civilian preparation: boys' and girls' emergency corps sprang up, air-raid drills and blackouts were practiced, and first aid courses were taken. We heard bleak reports of our Pacific losses. Gold stars appeared in our service flag. Those were the black days of the war.

The Class of S'44

As Juniors

● When the junior year came around, Beverly's war effort was in full swing. Outstanding were our war bond and stamp purchases. We led all California schools with $43,500 during the first semester; for this we received the Treasury "E" flag. Our contribution to the building of a bomber called the "Spirit of Beverly Hills Schools" was $40,000.

Salvage drives, the conservation program, and Junior Red Cross work claimed our efforts. Many faculty members left to join the armed forces, and the newly-inaugurated Minute Maids sold war stamps to the student body. Food and gas rationing came in, and to find relaxation from the maze of stamps and coupons, we rode the crowded busses to Roadside Rest. There the juke box played "As Time Goes By," "Black Magic," and "Don't Get Around Much Any More."

As Seniors

● Our last year at Beverly passed rapidly as we produced Color Day, donned our soldier blue class sweaters, and saw some of our classmates go into the service. The colorful drill team was organized, and we worried through the tuberculosis survey. Hit parade tunes were "You'll Never Know," "I'll Be Around," and "Pistol-Packin' Mama."

With graduation in view, we had exams, essays, and general hard work. Then ditch day, the Senior breakfast, and June 16, when we received our diplomas, came and went all too quickly. But as we sang the Alma Mater for the last time at graduation, all the studying, worry, and work was forgotten. New opportunities lay ahead, but the memories of the Norman spirit that had been ours for four years remained.

In Memoriam

BEVERLY WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER THOSE COURAGEOUS NORMANS WHO HAVE GIVEN THEIR LAST FULL MEASURE FOR OUR COUNTRY IN THIS GREAT WORLD CONFLICT. THEIR SPIRIT — THE SAME SPIRIT THEY SHOWED IN THEIR STUDENT LIFE AT NORMANDY — WILL LIVE ON, UNCONQUERABLE AS AMERICA ITSELF.

● Beverly's varsity football squad really appreciated their head coach, Max Glass, as they received spirit deluxe and many pigskin pointers from him.

All-Bay League honors went to three of this year's varsity. The first of these was backfield-man Mickey Titus. Whether "Big Mick" blocked, tackled, or carried the ball, he hit like a locomotive. Like Titus, sophomore Jimmie Powers was playing his first year of varsity ball. Jim did the thinking for the boys, as he was quarterback. It almost seemed as though he had dynamite in his shoe, his average punt being close to 39 yards. The other brain of the team was Q.B. Joe Bilchak. Although this senior was the smallest man of the squad, he proved to be the deadliest blocker and tackler.—Along with Powers, Bilchak did most of the passing. Surprising many by his far-above-expectation play, fullback Arnold Leckman displayed many times that spirit and determination are part of every football player. Second member of the team to receive all-league rating was end Kenny Brittingham. Already a varsity football letterman of last year, he has next season to look forward to. Brittingham was never excelled at pass snagging. Senior Dave Lyman was truly a powerful and important cog in the forward wall. It will really be a "big" job to fill his position.

● Up from last year's bees, senior "Tiger" Tinsman was as smart and tough as they come at end. Lineman Alex Forgette played plenty of rugged ball and will be greatly missed next season. Most improved player on the team was center Jack Bullard, who took quite a beating but played headline football.

Co-captains Bob Lucas and Lincoln Sheranian led the squad. Lucas was the last of the big three to gain recognition with an all-league rating, because of his top-notch 60-minute ball at guard. This senior was voted most valuable player. Sheranian was laid up a good part of the season with a bad shoulder, but when he played, he truly lived up to his last year's title—most valuable player.

● "Bashing Burbank" and breaking the jinx which has faced the varsity eleven for the past three season openers, the orange and white turned back the Bulldogs, 7-6. Mickey Titus stole spotlight honors, with his "10 yards-a-crack" really crushing the Burbank boys. The Glassmen returned from Long Beach Poly with at least a moral victory, the next week, as they deadlocked with the Jack-rabbits, 0-0. The encounter proved to be purely a defensive game. The local lads almost took Poly, however, as Vinnie Lupo lofted a 30 yard pass into the end zone, which barely missed the always-sticky fingers of wingman Kenny Brittingham in the closing seconds.

Opening the season with a setback on their own grounds, Beverly's warriors were blanked, 7-0, by an invading Sentinel group from down Inglewood way. The home boys faded terribly in the third period, when Inglewood chalked up the only score. Highlights of this contest were Powers' brilliant punting, which averaged 42 yards, and Brittingham's outstanding performance at end. The Seahawks from Redondo sliced Normandy's throat the next week; this cost them their second league loss. It was the same story as the week before; the Beverly gridsters were too exhausted in the second half to offer much resistance, and so were spilled, 13-0. This game was almost entirely defensive for the Normans, with end Tike Tinsman time and time again smashing the enemy's interference. Backfield standouts were Titus and Bilchak. Redondo went on to repeat its 1942 campaign by retaining the league crown. Samohi then sank the locals, 20-7, in the tilt out there. Fans said that the Vikes were outplayed, but there appeared to be just a little too much Jim Chadwick, who finally merited All-Bay League and C.I.F. recognition. Titus plunged over from the four to register Beverly's lone score. Bob Hennessey in the secondary and Dave Lyman in the line both turned in sterling performances. Co-captain Lincoln Sheranian further injured his weak shoulder during this fray.

● Winning their last game from Leuzinger—the one that decided the cellar position—the Norman footballers pushed over one touchdown and salvaged a 7-0 victory. Quarterback Joe Bilchak's 87 yard run highlighted the clash.

● At the quarterback position was stocky, smart Dick Daniel. Halfbacks included Bob Ewing, who was unequalled on defense; trackman Sterry Fagan, ably using his speed on offense; and senior Stan Maurseth, the best runner on the squad. Rounding out the secondary, we find at fullback a triple threat, Steve Gross. Also at this position was tricky, hard running Frank Tours.

In the line were ends Al Ready, tops on offense and defense, and Conrad Schweitzer, who was finally benched due to an injury. The tackle posts were nailed down by John Ohmer and Larry Frankley; both were always giving it all they had. Hugh Knox and Captain Don Newmark, center and guard, respectively, were easily the best linemen. Newmark did the converting.

Other lettermen: Dick Paul, John Kelley, Dick Kelton, Sherman Wagenseller, Bob Oswald, Dick Schulman, Marvin Chanin, Bob Jones, and Bo Roos.

● With deadly blocking and tackling paving the way, the Norbabes captured their opener from Burbank, 7-0. Mitchell Cleary and Bob Ewing played top ball, with the latter chalking up the only tally on a 21 yard reverse. In their second practice tussle the lightweights skinned the Jackrabbits from Long Beach Poly, 7-0. Standouts were Captain Don Newmark, Frank Tours, and Sterry Fagan, who ran over the lone score from the four.

In the season starter Beverly fought a determined Inglewood eleven to a scoreless tie. Many threats by both squads were halted by fumbles, losses, and penalties. Local highlights were Hugh Knox, Steve Gross, Bob Oswald, and Dick Paul. The next week Redondo tamed the Bees, 7-0. This was Beverly's lone defeat. The Santa Monica tilt on Herreid Field ended in a 13-13 draw, but contained many thrills to the final gun. In the finale Beverly dumped an invading Leuzinger group, 12-0. Frank Tours scored first on a smash from the three. End Al Ready scampered 55 yards with a blocked kick to score the second marker.

● Winding up in the number two spot, this year's varsity bucket brigade was coached by Hal Bacon. He worked them to perfection, but Redondo eeked them out for the title. Injured for a major portion of the season, Captain Duff Evans didn't hit his stride until the last few games. His play at guard in these, however, gave him an honorable mention on the all-league squad.

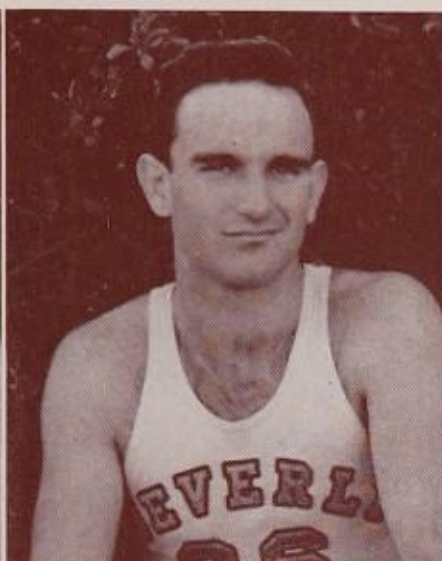

Only a junior and already a two year letter winner, Vinnie Lupo won a second string All-Bay League position because of his outstanding floor-play and his deadly right hand. The team lost Bill Anderson at the turn of the semester, but his under-the-basket play at forward was unequalled; he too was honored with an all-league honorable mention. Backbone of the team and high scorer for the season was center Herb Semmelmeyer. This 6 ft. 4 in. tip-in artist was rewarded with all-league and C.I.F. honors. Guard Stu Willner left in February, but he played his best when the going was the toughest. He was a clever ball handler and could put them in with either his right or left hand. Junior Bob Lewis played four-quarter ball and really guarded Beverly's goal, besides accounting for a healthy part of Normandy's points. The tough-luck kid of the group was forward Bob McDonough, who was on the injured list. This fast, determined, good shot will see plenty of action next year. One more junior was Eric Blore, who shifted from guard to forward in the last two games and rang up twenty points. Don Willardson didn't see too much action playing behind Semmelmeyer, but "Willie's" height came in mighty handy in off-of-the-backboard play. Forward Bruce Dubrow could always be counted on to come through in the pinches. Fast, energetic Paul Nicoletti also played forward and, when "hot," couldn't miss.

● An experienced Loyola quintet tripped the Normans in the season opener, 32-24. Center Herb Semmelmeyer guided the ball through the net for fourteen points. In the next practice tilt Beverly made good, as they cooled Alhambra, 28-19. Compton was then downed, 34-30, and Semmelmeyer was again high scorer. The local bucketeers added another victory to their record by capturing Long Beach Jordan, 30-17. In the final pre-league match Pasadena's Bull Pups were tamed, 36-26. Bill Anderson and Semmelmeyer shared the scoring honors. In an assembly Beverly's casaba crew conquered Redondo in the conference starter "on the local hardwood." With Lupo and Semmelmeyer leading the way with 30 points between them, Normandy's five triumphed, 45-26. In their second meeting the orange clad warriors were scalped, 47-42, by the league champs, but Anderson bagged 16. In the first tussle Leuzinger nipped the orange and white, 20-19; however, the locals got revenge in the second encounter, 29-21. Hoover of Glendale was trampled in a mid-season practice game, 33-25. Semmelmeyer's 15 markers helped to sink the Sentinels, 39-25, in the first round, and his 17 in the after-match was a basic factor in Beverly's 39-27 win. Last on the schedule was Samohi, who clipped Beverly, 34-32. Guard Stu Willner brilliantly climaxed his cage career with 10 tallies. The Bacon boys really went to town in the final game by shellacking the Vikes, 48-25. Blore, Lupo, and Semmelmeyer tied with 12 apiece.

CIF Tournament

Vinnie Lupo sinks one in Beverly's opening tournament game in which the varsity set back Santa Barbara, 42-24.

● In Beverly's second annual C.I.F. Invitational Basketball Tournament, with fourteen schools competing, favored Montebello came from behind in the finals to trim Long Beach Poly, 36-31, and claim the mythical C.I.F. championship. Redondo's Seahawks spilled Compton, 37-32, to nab third place.

Beverly's cagers started out with a win over Santa Barbara, only to be eliminated by Compton, 33-27, in the second match. Starring for the locals in tournament play were forwards Eric Blore and Bob McDonough and guard Vinnie Lupo, who was honored with a second string berth on the all-tourney team.

Bee Basketball

● Beverly's greatly improved bee cagers came through with six straight wins to cop the conference championship.

Loyola was cooled in the practice opener, 21-17. Alhambra came next, but they tamed the lightweights, 20-17. Beverly was then spilled by Compton, 23-20, in an overtime. However, the following week it was a different story as Pasadena was bombarded, 37-23. In the last practice fray Beverly dumped Long Beach Jordan, 26-11.

Scheduled for a double round, the season opened with Redondo tripping the locals, 37-35, in two overtimes with Pat Kerrigan scoring 11. Avenging this loss in the second game, Beverly triumphed over the Seahawks, 25-19. Then came Leuzinger, who downed the Norbabes, 22-16, but who were walloped in the after match, 29-15. Again Kerrigan led the scoring. In a mid-season practice game the bees felled Glendale Hoover, 29-15. Next on the list was Inglewood, whom Beverly conquered twice: first, 34-20, in which Fred Bellmar swished 13; and second, 31-20. Last on the schedule was Samohi, who was buried in both games: first, 42-35, where Reynolds hit for 13, Bellmar 11, and Powers 10; and then, 32-28. This last game decided the title and Jim Powers starred as he netted 16.

Captain Jim Powers

Captain Powers was also high scorer for the season with 63, named the best bee player by Coach Bacon, he has two more years of eligibility. Forward Pat Kerrigan looped in 56 and played consistent four-quarter ball. Although forward Fred Bellmar graduated in February, he rang up 43 league points. Freddie was a deadly shot and good ball handler. Up from the cee's, center John Reynolds seemed to control both backboards besides sinking 33. Senior guards Arnie Bail and Earle Ziskin were smart on defense and dumped in 17 and 26 points, respectively. Other lettermen were Dick Brauer, Steve Gross, Dick Paul, and Dick Robbins.

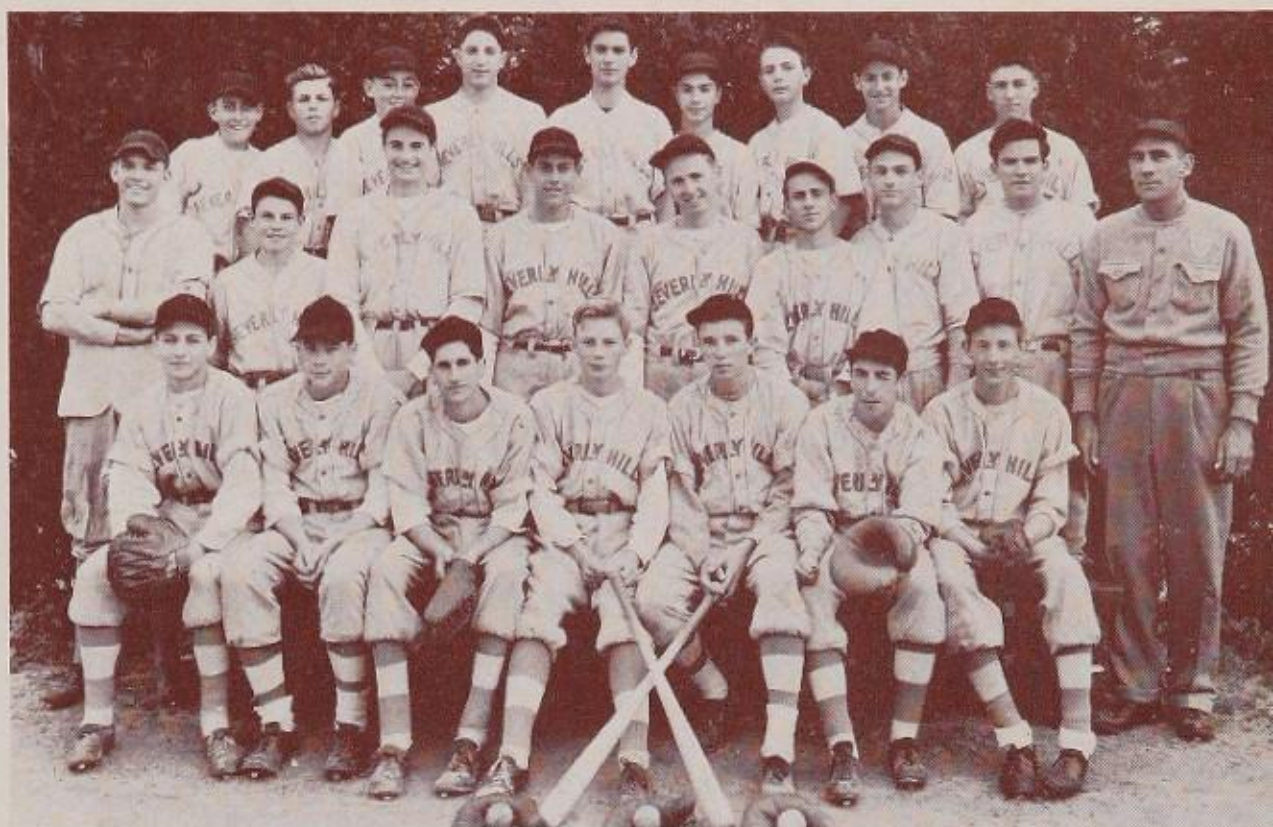

● Having tough luck through their short season, the cee basketball forces wound up in fourth position. Coached by Irving Glasband, they were trimmed by Hollywood, 21-20, and Dorsey, 21-12, in two of their practice frays. With the third game being the charm, the mid-gets turned back Loyola, 13-5. In a return match Hollywood again spilled the locals. In the Bay League Tournament at Redondo, Inglewood first overpowered Beverly, 23-12, and then Redondo conquered them, 19-13. Cee lettermen were Edwin Artzt, Lane Blank, Mitchell Cleary, Herbert Flam, Bob Fox, Allen Linn, Keith Morehart, Captain Lynn Stalmaster, and Manager Dick Holland.

Beverly's dee basketekers brought home a Bay League championship, as they coasted through their entire schedule without one setback. In the first of the midget's three practice tilts they scored a victory over Dorsey, 19-16, in which Don Meeder rang up 15 points. The other triumphs were over Loyola, 24-16, and Hollywood, 38-19. Winning their opening match in the Redondo Tournament from Leuzinger, 23-13, the dees were then encountered by Redondo in the finals, and eeked them out, 21-20, to nab the title. Meeder tallied 24 points for individual honors. Dee lettermen were Paul Bach, Sam Grossman, Dick Hine, Marlo and Myron Jarman, Dick Jones, Bob Mays, Don Meeder, Lynn Montjoy, Norman Willner, and Captain Bob Ward.

Varsity Baseball

● With hopes of taking the pennant prior to the opening game with Inglewood, Beverly's baseballers wound up with a tie for the number two spot. That opening game with the Sentinels ended 6-7 in favor of the visitors. A one-hitter by Jack Ince resulted in a 2-0 triumph over Redondo. This win was followed by another over Leuzinger, 1-0, in which Captain Hugh Gallagher twirled a two-hitter. Having trouble with Inglewood again, the local horsehidors started the second round off ending up on the short side of a 5-3 count. The next week Beverly Hills piled up 12 runs to Redondo's 4. Outfielder Mike Allen knocked out a round-tripper for the first home run in league competition. In the closing game of the year Leuzinger surrendered to the Norman nine, 4-7. Many extra base blows were batted out by the Beverly boys including a four base bingo by first baseman Dick Rosenblum. Because athletic relations between Beverly and Samohi had been discontinued, those two games were not played, and both were given a win and a loss.

CAPT. HUGH GALLAGHER

● This year's baseball nine fielded quite a number of stars that returned from last season. Heading the list was Hugh Gallagher, captain and speed-ball pitcher deluxe. Gallagher's pitching was one of the main reasons for Beverly's fine play. Like football, baseball teams have a signal caller too. Catcher Steve Gross ably handled this job and will return as a valuable asset to the team next season. Chief fly snagger was centerfielder Dick Estep. "Nokajima" was small, fast, and alert. These, together with his experience, have made him one of Beverly's best outfielders. One more senior was first sacker Dick Rosenblum, whose clever fielding and long reach made him a key man in the infield. Jim Powers was top-notch at scooping up hot grounders at short-stop, while his throws were pretty close to perfect. "Can do" collected a good percentage of the hits and will return next year. The last veteran was a sophomore pitcher, Jack Ince. This lad could put them over any corner of the plate with exceptionally good control.

● Although a new comer this season, outfielder Mike Allen fitted in very nicely. His "pegs" from deep right field were extraordinary, while his clean-up hitting knocked in quite a number of valuable runs. Holding down the number two sack was freshman Hugh Knox. A consistent infielder, Knox will be useful in the coming three seasons. Junior Dick Miller was another fly-chaser patrolling the outer gardens in left field. Miller had the best arm of the bunch, when it came to long accurate throws. Frank Morriss nailed down the hot corner. Few hits got by this junior and his clinch-hitting was several times a life saver. Turning in a good job for his play at catcher, Bob Petkin did very well for his first year out. The main reason the team played as well as it did was due to Coach Al Klein's fine coaching. Well-liked, Klein had a determined attitude that also gave him respect from all of his boys. Giving Klein a helping hand was assistant coach Lou Harris, who took care of the junior varsity.

Captain Dick Rubin

● At the head of this year's varsity cinder squad was Captain Dick Rubin. He was Beverly's top sprinter and turned in consistently fast times in both the hundred and quarter-mile. Climaxing four years of jumping for the Norman track teams was Dave Gill. In the broad jump Gill leaped out past 21 feet, and his fine form plus his agile spring lifted him up around 5 feet 10 inches in the high jump. Captain of this season's bee group was low hurdler Bob Jones. Winning all of his races by a decisive margin, Jones was a tremendous asset to the 1944 team. Also headlining the bee aggregation was two-year monogram winner Sterry Fagan. He proved to be one of the most colorful runners Normandy has produced in many a season, and his times were always near 1.30s. Jim Blakeley trotted laps for Beverly in the half-mile. "Blake," a junior, had a springy stride, a long wind, and a powerful finish which enabled him to be clocked continually in fast times. Although this was only his first year out, Karl Henning won regular places in the high jump and the shot-put. Fighting it out with Henning in the shot in every meet was southpaw Eric Blore. Both of these lads always reach 45 feet. Rambling 190 pounds down the straight-away, Mickey Titus jogged the hundred in a sizzling 10.5s in early season competition, besides broad jumping and being a major link in the relay team. Also passing the baton with Titus were Rubin, Palmer, and Bill Chamberlain. Bob Palmer supported the Norman forces by competing in the century and furlong. The graduation of Bob will leave next season's squad mighty flat in the sprints. Returning with two years of varsity experience, Bob Olds performed under orange colors in both the high and low hurdles. A steady winner, Bob was one of Beverly's best timber toppers. Again coaching three fine teams, Charles Brown spent many hours after school giving the boys all of the help and advice they needed. Brown always fields good teams and this year's were no exception.

● A truly strong squad was this year's varsity track team. Beverly waxed the Harvard bunch in the opening meet, 73-22. Mickey Titus ran a 10.5s century, and Bob Fortier cleared 5' 7" in the high jump. Inglewood then downed Normandy, 66-38. Traveling to Pasadena, Beverly returned with a 56-47 triumph. Captain Dick Rubin and Bob Palmer turned in 10.5s and 10.6s hundreds, respectively. Fortier vaulted 11', while Dave Gill glided over 5' 9" in the high jump. Redondo then invaded the local cinderpath only to be swamped, 72-32. Several good marks were made by Normans. Broad jumper Gill reached 21' 1", and Jim Blakeley ran a 2:07.2s half mile. The following week Beverly went to town in a three-way meet. Final score was Beverly, 84 1/3; Compton, 40 1/3; Leuzinger, 4 1/3. Karl Henning stole individual honors when he threw the shot put 49' 10". Since then he has consistently reached 48' 6" and should do well in the Bay League and C.I.F. meets. Right behind Henning was Eric Blore with a put of 47' 7". Bob McDonough broke 20' in the broad jump, and Rubin sprinted a 10.5s hundred and a 22.7s two-twenty with the help of a slight tail wind. Inglewood took Beverly by one point in the league relays in a night tournament on their oval. The varsity took firsts in the shot, high jump, broad jump, mile, and 480 yard hurdles.

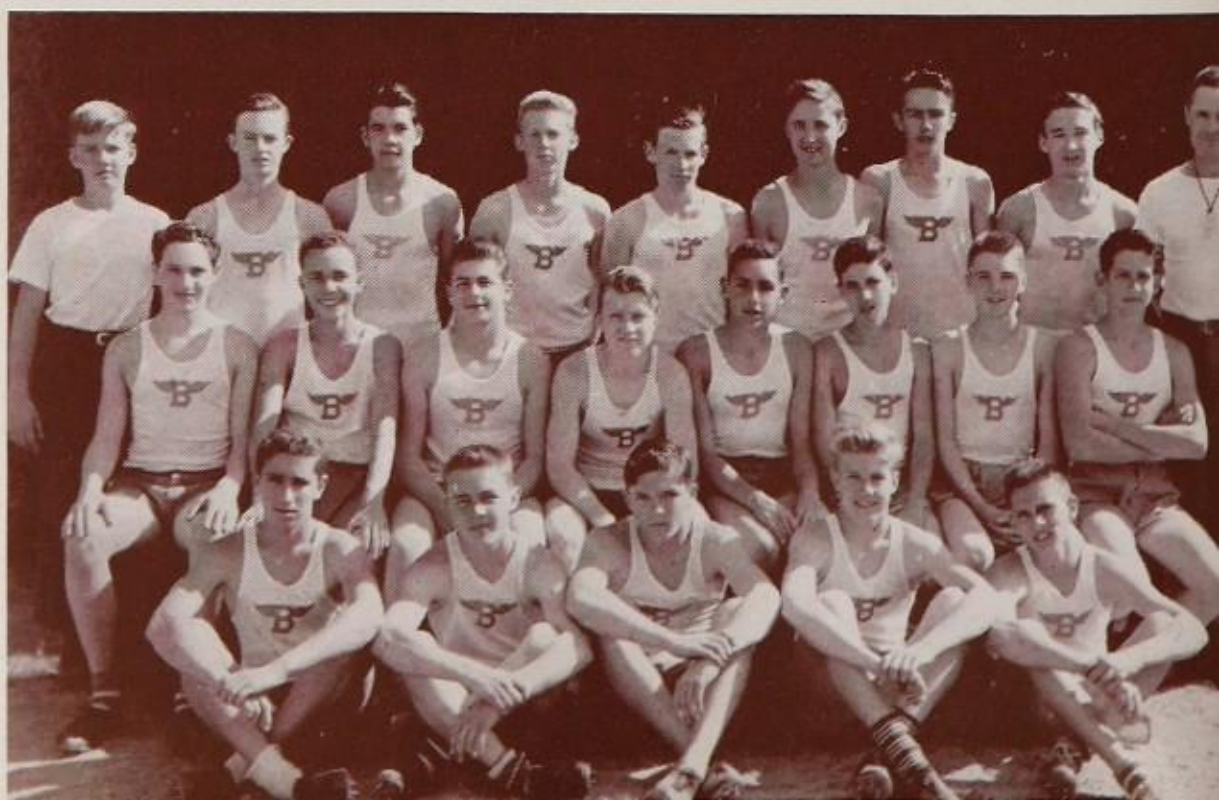

Bee

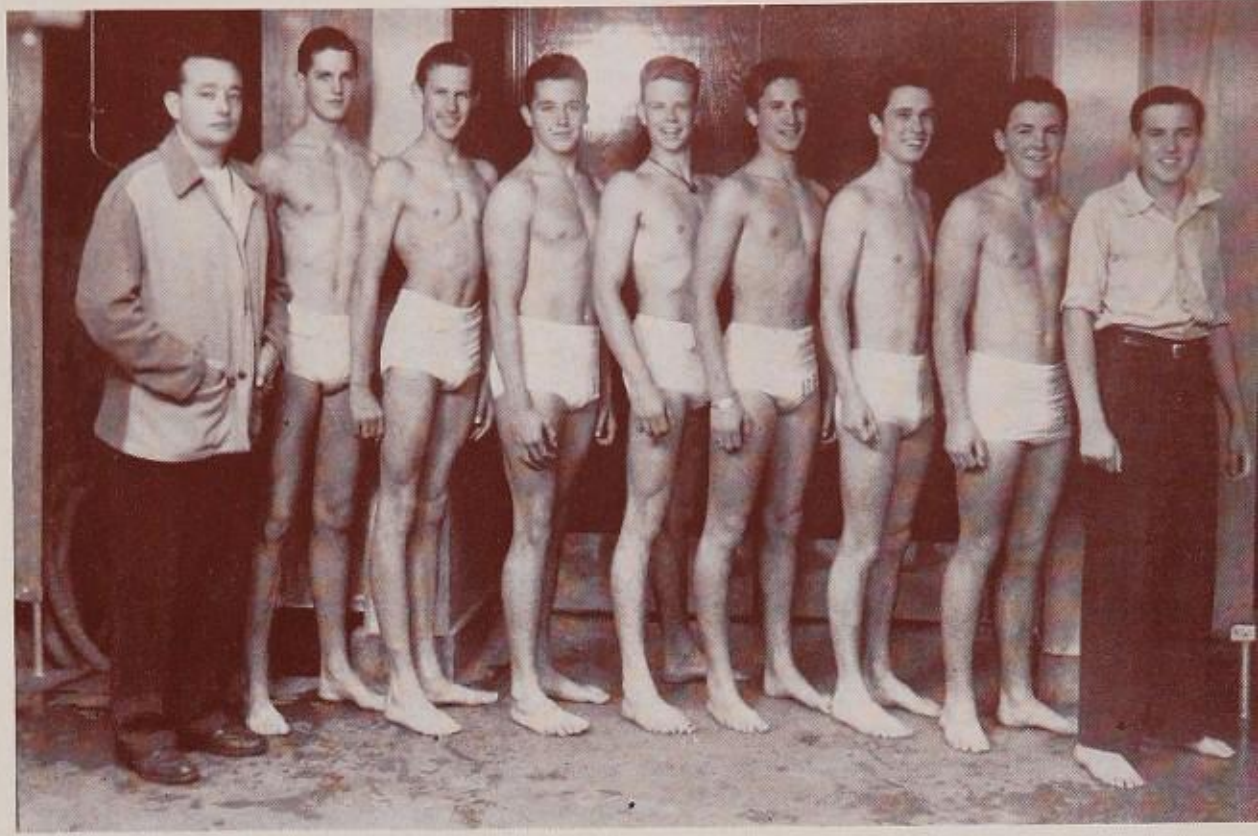

● The bee tracksters had an average year, but they opened with a bang by smearing Harvard, 72-17. Pat Kerrigan vaulted 10' 6". Following this, Inglewood was slighted, 47 $\frac{1}{3}$ - 47 $\frac{2}{3}$. The next week Beverly took Pasadena, 63-62. The locals then met Redondo and were cooled, 53-37. Captain Bob Jones turned in a 14.2s in the low hurdles, while baseballer Jim Powers took time out to heave the shot 45' 8". In the three-way encounter with Compton and Leuzinger the bees finished second. Dick Le Winter was recorded in 1:30.8s in the 660. At the Inglewood Relays the lightweights took third. The outstanding event was the four-man two mile, with Sterry Fagan running the 880 in 2:4.5s and Ladd Vincent in 2:10.4s.

Led by Co-captains Mitch Cleary and Gerry Johnson, the cees had a successful year and have a good chance to take the championship. They started the year out by clipping Harvard, 51-25. Cleary copped the 100 in 10.6s. Beverly then bowed to Inglewood, 46 $\frac{2}{3}$ -30 $\frac{1}{3}$. John Stevens ran the 50 in 6.s. Next Beverly pounded Pasadena, 54-22, and ruined Redondo, 45 $\frac{1}{2}$ -31 $\frac{1}{2}$. Cleary broad jumped 20' 9", while Merritt Van Sant did 15.3s in the low hurdles. The cees barely took Leuzinger the next Friday, 39 $\frac{1}{4}$ -37 $\frac{3}{4}$. Van Sant jumped 5' 8" measured. Tying for first in the Inglewood Relays, Beverly showed very well, especially in the broad jump and the sprints.

Varsity Swimming

● Coasting through an undefeated season, the varsity swimmers had quite a bit of individual talent. Certain to win the Bay League title and possibly the C.I.F., the team was co-captained by Don Hester and Marc Robert. Triumphant 42-33 over L.A., Beverly started its unbroken string of victories. Cliff Hughes took the 220 yard freestyle in 2:36.5s. Fahnestock,

Marc Robert

Don Hester

Hughes, Rogers, and Robert composed the four-man 200 yard relay team which was clocked in 1:44s. Ray Stoddard also began his string of wins in diving. Trampling Venice the next week, 63-11, the locals took every first place. The relay decided the Whittier meet which Normandy took, 41-34. Diver Stoddard remained undefeated. Inglewood was trimmed, 56-18, and Leuzinger, 56-19. Nothing outstanding was recorded in either of these meets. Beverly then invaded U.C.L.A. and brought home a 44-33 win. Co-captain Don Hester breaststroked a 1:10.9s hundred, while Jack Fahnestock freestyled the same distance in 59s. This was the only meet in which Stoddard was defeated. In the last encounter, in which Beverly waxed Leuzinger, 56-19, several good marks were made. Co-captain Marc Robert did 24.9s in the 50 free and 46.s in the individual medley. In the three-man medley Hester, Hughes, and Allenberg were timed in 1:31.7s. Stoddard won the diving again and should go far in the league and C.I.F. finals.

Bee

● Like the varsity, the bees went through an undefeated season and were led by Co-captains George Eckstein and Eddie Major. The Norbabs spilled Los Angeles in the season opener, 45-20. Venice then invaded the local tank only to be crushed, 57-6. Beverly next took Whittier, 39-27. Eckstein did 1:01.6s in the 100 free, while Bob Rifkind stopped the clock at 1:15.4s in the 100 yard backstroke. Nor-mandy's next victory was over Inglewood, 44½-20½. Major crossed the line in 2:45.5s in the 220 free. Leuzinger was taken, 56-10, by the bees in their first engagement. Eckstein swam a 26.6s 50. In the after-match Leuzinger was also sunk, 37-29. The medley relay team of Major, Merrill, and Rex hit 1:36.2s.

Cee

● Piloted by Co-captains Bob Caldwell and Rush Hinsdale, the cee swimming group had a fairly successful year. They opened the season with a loss to Whittier, 13½-25½. Hinsdale swam 34.7s in the backstroke. The midgets then eeked out Inglewood, 20-19. Caldwell was clocked in 29.8s for the 50 free. The 75 yard medley relay team, made up of Chambers, Hinsdale, and Wolf, paddled it out in 46.4s. In the first meeting with Leuzinger, Beverly was victorious, 27-12. The locals triumphed even greater in the second contest, 36-3. Chuck Jacobson turned in the 50 yard breaststroke in 38.s. The cees should do well in the league finals.

Tennis

Captain Phil Cagan

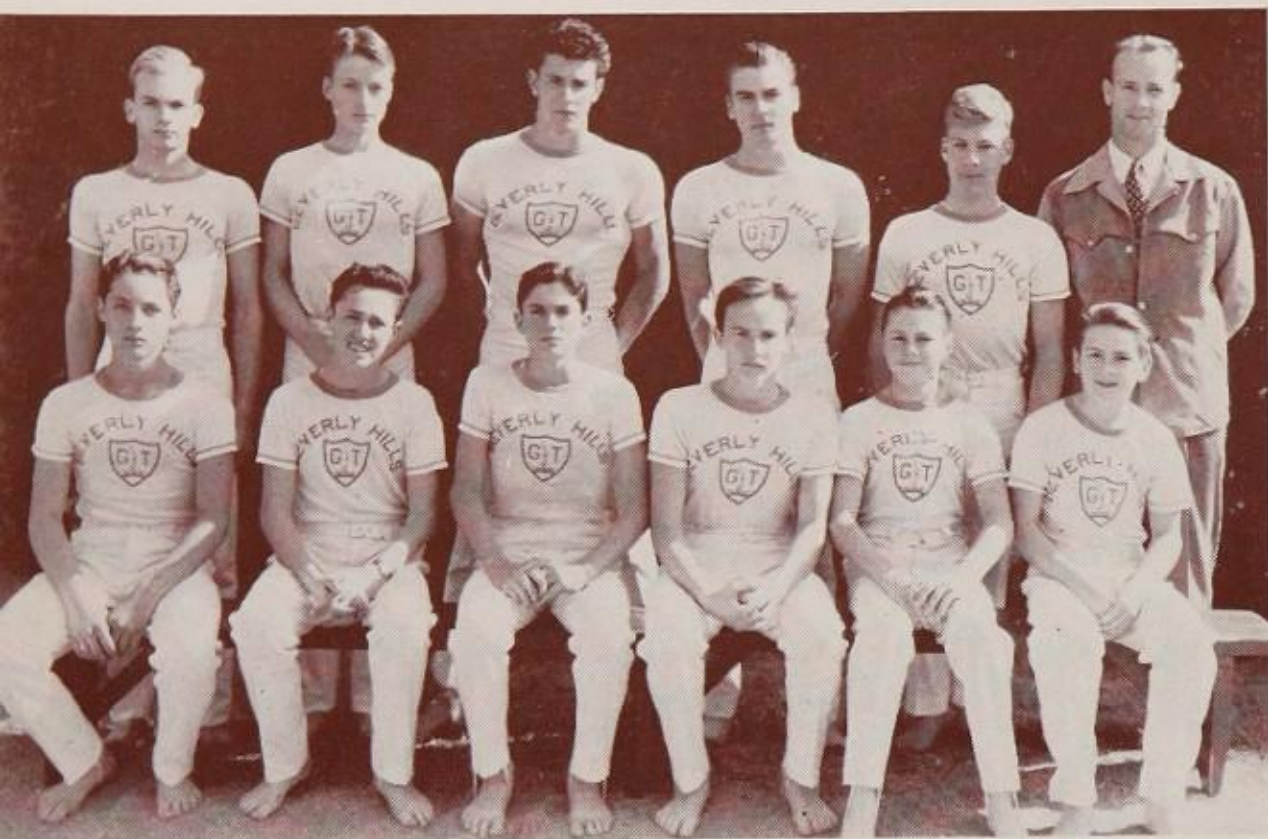

Coach K. C. Mitchell

● Coach Kenny Mitchell's tennis team went through an undefeated season up to the last match, which the boys lost to Santa Monica, 5-4. Samo shifted its strength to the doubles, and because of this, Beverly was taken and wound up second in the league.

The Norman netmen blanked El Monte, 11-0, in the opener. This was followed by wins over Mark Keppel by the same margin, Hoover, 9-0, and then Marshall, 8-0. Beverly was still unscored upon after it had mastered Fairfax, 9-0, and South Pasadena, 11-0. Flam breezed through Stewart in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, in first singles. Glendale, the third strongest team in Southern Cal, surrendered to the Mitchellmen, 8-1. Flam trimmed Veslich, 6-3, 6-4. The Dudley Cup Tournament was held from April 5-8. Favored Herbie Flam triumphed easily to capture the 18 years and under crown, while Dick St. John was a finalist in the 15 and under. Inglewood and Loyola were then both vanquished, 9-0, which was followed by an 8-1 triumph over Redondo. An always dangerous Santa Barbara group relaxed, 8-3, just before Samohi edged the locals, 5-4.

Varsity lettermen were Flam, first singles, returning; Vinnie Lupo, second singles, returning; Captain Phil Cagan and Jack Kerr, first doubles; Bob Schlesinger, third singles; Paul Turner, fourth singles; Al Clark and Sheldon Schoneberg, second doubles; Eugene Corman and Curt Marx, fifth singles, returning.

Gym Team

Captain Bob Fortier

Coach Max Glass

● Training since February, this year's gym squad participated in one meet—the C.I.F. finals held at Mark Keppel, April 27. Coach Max Glass entered four men, who garnered a fifth place behind Long Beach Poly, Santa Monica, Mark Keppel, and Pasadena. Lettermen and point winners were Allen Linn, fourth in the free exercise; Hawthorne Mills, fifth in the Indian clubs; returning letterman Keith Morehart, fifth on the high bar; and Craig Nason, fourth on the rings. Both Bob Fortier and Richard Olshausen were unable to compete, and they would have been sure point winners. Captain Fortier broke his arm a few days before the meet and would have participated in the free ex, rope climb, and on the rings. Olshausen was a victim of the measles; he would have climbed the rope and entered the long horse for Beverly. Player-manager Hal Clay represented the orange and white in the clubs and on the rings.

"Almost the entire squad returns next year, and if gym is continued, the team should have a successful season," states Coach Glass.

GAA

● Officially starting a year of activity for all Girls' Athletic Association enthusiasts was the semi-annual "Jolly-up," held the second week in September. As approximately three hundred and seventy-five girls and freshmen attended, the party was considered a success. Refreshments and various aquatic games were played.

Opening the social season at Beverly was the annual Spinsters' Hop, held October 15. Pat Malcolm, vice-president, head of all social affairs, and a committee composed of Estelle Norris, Bea Nichols, Virginia Ludlow, Bonnie Nate, Marion Ancel, Mariellen Smith, and Barbara Snodgrass produced a Sadie Hawkins Day dance, with Buck Pennington's orchestra supplying the melodic entertainment. Nearly three hundred couples attended; this about doubled the attendance of previous hops.

The board members for 1944 consisted of Marilyn Carson, fall president; Joan Dewan, swimming and spring president; Pat Malcolm, vice-president; Bea Nichols, secretary; Estelle Norris, riding; Eleanor Sperling, baseball; Barbara Snodgrass, tennis; Polly Carabin, basketball; Barbara Jeffries, badminton; and Mary Kay Payne, manager of the newly-organized volleyball club. Under the efficient guidance of Joan Dewan, president for the spring semester, and Mrs. Marjorie Sturges, sponsor of the board, the teachers' kitchen was redecorated by the board members.

A swimming assembly for the benefit of the War Chest was put on by the G. A. A. It featured Johnny Weissmuller and "Stubby" Krueger. The initiation of letter awards was introduced to all the clubs during their season. The emblem is a four-inch block "B" in orange. The board has set the standards for eligibility to wear these letters. The activities closed in June with the annual G. A. A. banquet, which was held in the cafeteria. The girls then expressed their thanks to Mrs. Sturges, who gave her time to sponsoring the activities of the G.A.A. board for the year 1944.

Tennis Team

Tennis Ladder

● Climaxing a surprising season, the girls' tennis team came through on top in all but one match at the Bay League tourney held at the Los Angeles Tennis Club, April 21. Beverly was defeated in the final round when Santa Monica proved to be a superior team. Other matches were played with Marlborough and Westlake. Holding down top positions were Pat Malcolm, number one, with Bea Nichols playing second, and Ann Carter, third. Marilyn Carson with Janet Cooper played first doubles. Mariellen Smith and Miriam Marx, Norma Rydell and Carole Weiss played second and third doubles. A banquet ended the season at which manager Barbara Snodgrass thanked Mrs. Marjorie Sturges for coaching this year's squad.

● Over thirty raquetteers battled this season to cop coveted high positions on three ladders. Some of the girls of the "A" ladder were admitted to the sixth period tennis class on the possibility that there might be some good material. Most of the girls have played in at least one match with another school.

Riding

Baseball

● Beverly equestriennes saddled up Saturday mornings at the Leo Dupee stables for a two-hour ride. Point shows were held monthly for competition within the club. During the season Beverly presented its annual horse show with the Normanettes coming out on top. Pat Malcolm, high point equestrienne, and Estelle Norris, manager and jumping enthusiast, competed in many shows of the western circuit. Miss Janet Patey sponsored the riding club.

● In April the newly organized baseball club began a busy season with competition at its peak. Teams were organized by manager Eleanor Sperling and sponsor Mrs. Mary Herron. Hard-hitting seniors batted out high averages while the juniors put up a strong battle for top honors. Two all-star teams were formed of the best 18 players. Final games were played, and the season ended with club letter awards and the annual banquet.

Basketball

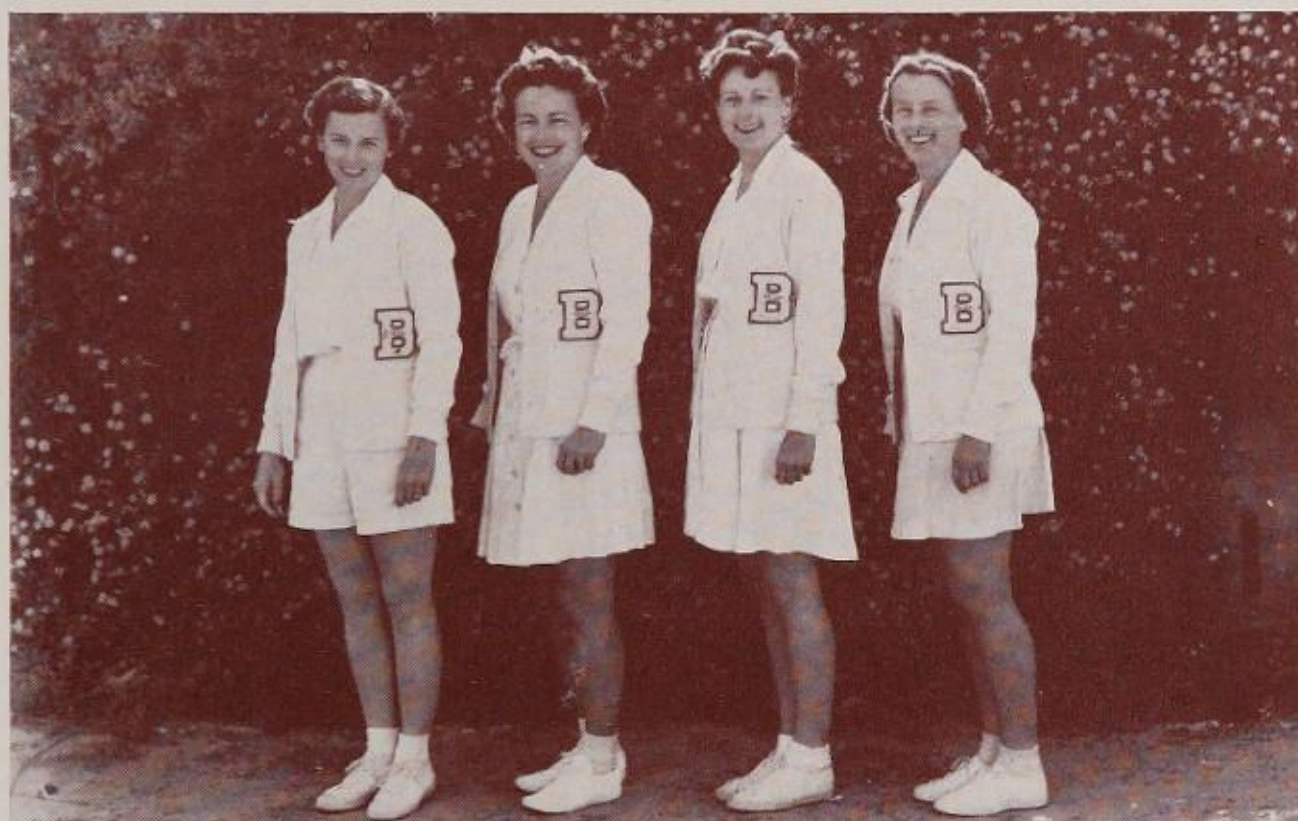

Badminton

● Climaxing a successful G.A.A. basketball season, an All-Star team played Marlborough. Although the Beverly queens lost, 21-10, Pat Malcolm, captain, Polly Carabin, Betty Jo Fitger, Jean Medbery, Ann Carter, Bonnie Nate, Delores Phillippi, Sharon Bruns, and Marilyn Carson played fast basketball. About 100 people participated in this popular sport. The senior team, consisting of Pat Malcolm, captain, Jean Medbery, Betty Jo Fitger, Ann Carter, Mary Lu Earle, Jean Roesch, and Marilyn Carson won the interclub tournament. After the final game Polly Carabin, manager, thanked Miss Ethel Tobin and Miss Janet Patey for sponsoring the club.

● When the call for badminton recruits was announced by manager Barbara Jeffries, the response was great. Beverly smashers, sponsored by Miss Ethel Tobin, battled twice weekly in singles matches. A ladder was formed and the chief activities of the club were playing matches to cop high positions. The season ended with a banquet, where the new G.A.A. emblems were presented and the membership oath was taken.

Swimming

● Under the capable management of Joan Dewan and faculty sponsor Mrs. Mary Herron, the swimming season proved to be a success. Highlighting the season's activities, a swimming assembly was sponsored to raise money for the War Chest drive. Johnny Weissmuller and "Stubby" Krueger donated their services to the cause. About fifty students took part in medley, freestyle, and novelty relays. Culminating the season was a spread after school in the girls' gym. The active pledges took the G.A.A. oath and received their emblems.

● Mrs. Marjorie Sturges, well known for her kindly disposition, ably coached the tennis team. All star casaba queens and the basketball teams were fortunate in having Miss Ethel Tobin as sponsor and coach. "Toby" also sponsored the badminton club. Known for her vitality and enthusiasm, Mrs. Mary Herron sponsored the swimming and baseball clubs. Miss Janet Patey, efficient acting head of the department, diverted her time in sponsoring the riding club and co-sponsoring the ever-popular basketball club.

● With less time than usual in which to accomplish its work, the literary staff of the Watchtower has contributed its part towards a yearbook which should be, as the theme suggests, something to remember.

Even though numerous new deadlines, shortages, and difficulties created by the war had to be met, this yearbook should prove superior to any produced previously. Beverly is one of the few schools in this vicinity to have an annual this year, and for this we are grateful.

A literary staff of fourteen members, supervised by co-editors Esther Engstrom and Shirley Smith, composed the journalistic division of the annual. The task of planning all the photography went to John Redfern. Adrienne Kosches was in charge of activities, while Jean Given was assigned the administration. Betty Jo Fitger and Joyce Liscom headed the division on classes, while Gloria Lavene and Lona Raffee filled the positions of club editors. Pat Malcolm wrote about girls' sports and Bruce Dubrow took over boys' sports. Jean Medbery wrote the clever titles for the feature section. A most efficient business staff was headed by Ladd Vincent, business manager, and Sheila Williams as his assistant took charge of publicity. All members of this staff were chosen for their ability in the English department.

To Miss Ruth Wheeler, the faculty sponsor and adviser, go the thanks of the staff, the student body, and all who will enjoy this book.

● By means of their division sheets, cartoons, and layouts, the eleven members of the Watchtower art staff have shared honors with the English staff for their part in the development of this yearbook.

Under the student direction of Roger Kennedy, whose job it has been to coordinate all the activities of this staff, the art work has been most successfully carried out. Members of the art staff were chosen because of their outstanding work in the art department, and several members of this year's staff have served previously in various positions on the annual.

Joe and Jane Norman and their reminiscences of Beverly was the theme this year, and it has been carried out in various drawings and cartoons. An interesting color scheme was used, and an informal style has been sustained throughout.

Sharon Fitzsimmons did a particularly fine job of lettering, and Loretta Steele made an interesting layout for the feature section. Bob Jones and Hal Clay contributed many cartoons to the annual, and Gloria Baff designed Joe and Jane Norman and the title page. Marion Ancel, Jane Colburn, and Jackie Sackett worked on division sheets, while Ruth Stoos did the end sheets. Sally Hatteroth had the task of mounting numerous pictures.

Appreciation should go to Mrs. Caroline Bennett, faculty sponsor and adviser of the art staff, who helped this group with their many problems.

Highlights

MIKE SIMMONS

● Publishing a paper of the highest quality, and one that is ranked with the best in the nation for its size, the first semester Highlights staff proved its capabilities to the student body.

Under the direction of editor-in-chief Michael Simmons, a large staff of editors and reporters presented a complete coverage of campus news.

Esther Engstrom and John Barr served as city editors and did an excellent job of putting out the first page. Anne Stern, as second page editor, introduced many interesting features. Anne wrote a weekly report on alumni in the service in her column, "From the Fronts," and the editor-in-chief penned "Sidelights by Simmons." Barbara Kibby wrote "Norman Nomad" and Betty Courtright contributed "Pointless Corn." Third page was ably handled by Reba Lee Goldberg. Don Davies headed the sports staff as editor and Frank Tours assisted him.

Phil Cagan and Adrienne Kosches served as high school correspondents to the Beverly Hills Citizen, and Bettie Connolly took over grammar school news for that paper. Eugene Gold was in charge of public relations for the Highlights.

Bob Harrigan took on the position of business manager, Virginia DeBroux was in charge of circulation, and Betty Courtright did an excellent job as advertising manager. Joanne Strauss assisted as staff secretary, and Pat Malcolm served as art editor.

Mrs. Romaine H. Pauley supervised the entire staff.

Highlights

DON DAVIES

JOHN BARR

● Headed by one of the most cooperative and hardworking staffs in recent years, the Highlights for the second semester continued to give a complete coverage of campus activities.

Serving as co-editors-in-chief, John Barr and Don Davies also took charge of second page and did a fine job in both capacities. Barbara Kibby and Reba Lee Goldberg edited first page, and Betty Courtright and Joyce Liscom were third page editors, "Norman Nomad" was reported by Reona Kavich, Virginia DeBroux edited "From the Fronts," Adrienne Kosches wrote "Komments by Kosches," and Betty Courtright continued to write "Pointless Corn."

Garee Winnett and Phil Cagan reported news for the Beverly Hills Citizen, and Bettie Connolly continued to serve as grammar school editor. The sports page was managed by Bob Harrigan and Frank Tours, and both contributed to "Norman Notes." Esther Engstrom headed the public relations bureau.

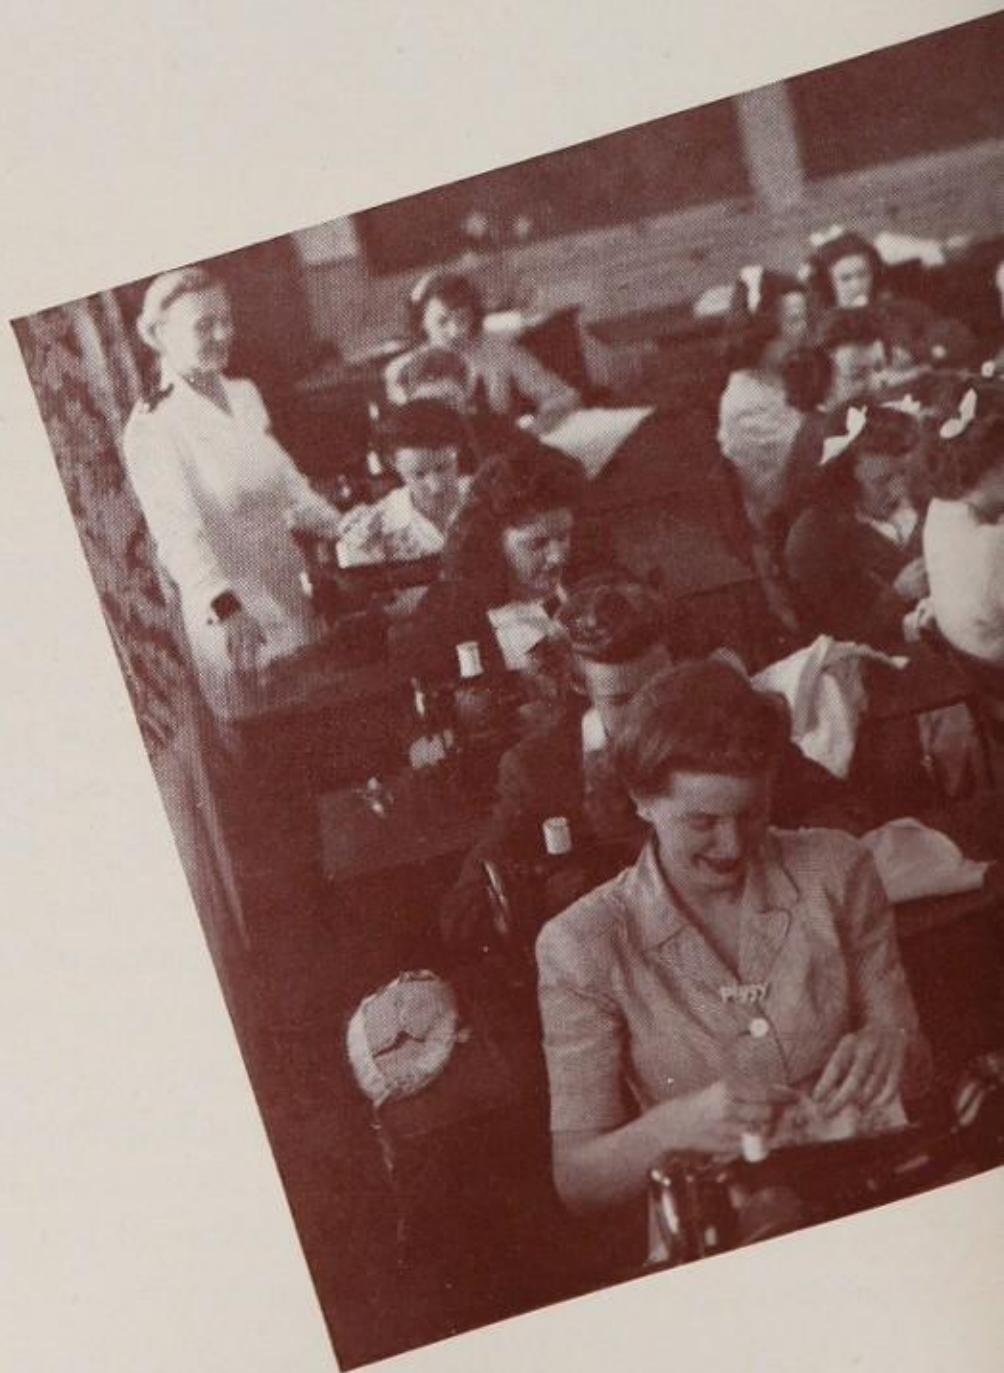

Up from the "cubs," Joyce West took over the position of advertising manager and Marc Robert handled the financial affairs of the Highlights. Adrienne Kosches was in charge of circulation and Virginia DeBroux was service editor.

Several high honors have come to the Highlights during the year, among them the International Honor Rating of Quill and Scroll for excellence in journalism.

To Mrs. Pauley, who spent many hours of her own time as faculty sponsor and adviser of the Highlights, go our thanks and appreciation.

War

● This year Beverly has gone all out for the war effort. Of greatest importance were the war bond drives. Based on class competition, the drives usually exceeded the quotas. To stimulate one bond drive, Edgar Bergen and his wooden wizards, Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd, entertained the student body in an assembly. As a result of this entertainment, the sales of bonds and stamps were increased.

Activities

● The Minute Maids were a great factor contributing to the success of war stamp sales. Having been selected from each class, these girls donated one lunch period each week. They were easily recognized by the colorful red, white, and blue aprons which they wore.

At Christmas time various clubs and the Girls' League Red Cross Committee organized students to help fill stockings for hospitalized service men. The red stockings were filled with candy, nuts, and useful articles; such as, pencils, razor blades, calendars, and toothpaste. Each club tried to outdo the other, and as a result, several hundred stockings were well filled.

Especially notable was the way in which Beverly girls volunteered to sew and knit for the Red Cross. Giving one or two afternoons a week, the girls made pneumonia jackets, bed jackets, slippers, baby layettes, knee bands, and toe socks. Under the direction of Mrs. Ira Frisbee and Mrs. Charles King, the girls accomplished much for the worth-while effort of the Junior Red Cross.

The Red Cross drive for funds was most successful this year. The student body realized the serious need of this organization, and the students contributed generously.

The clubs helped the war effort in many ways. Collections for books and magazines for service men's libraries took place. Clean-up campaigns to relieve the custodians were conducted. Club members addressed envelopes for service men's "Highlights." Beverly still enjoyed many pre-war privileges, but it was not neglectful in the war effort.

Norman Players

● Early in October, a group of about fifty students under the supervision of Miss Katherine McFarland, drama coach, met to organize the Norman Players' Association. The group was composed of students interested in Dramatic Arts. The Norman Players planned to present a play for the general public every two weeks.

As their first production the Players presented a one-act play entitled "A Night at the Blakes" by Gardner. Fred Shepphird was the student director, and Don Austin handled the duties of stage manager. The cast included Arleen Gould as Mrs. Blake; Bob Marquis, Grandpa; Olive Bereliner, Junior; Jackie Springer, Gwen; Tom Madison, Jack; Jean Dray, Hilda; and Pat Combs, Mr. Blake.

Scheduled as their second production was a one-act play, "The Piper's Pay" by Margaret Cameron. Barbara Bailey had the job of student director, and Matt Knotek was the stage manager. Comprising the cast were Charlene Shayne as Mary Clark; Patsy Van Ronkel, Evelyn Evans; Iris Shiffman, Freda Dixon; Mary Lou Alden, Mrs. Charles Dover; Joan Holloway, Mrs. John Burton; and Helen Carnahan, Mrs. Hereford Carr.

Officers of the extra-curricular club for the first semester were George Sherman, president; Fred Shepphird, vice-president; Sherry Biggar, secretary; Helen Carnahan, treasurer; and Bob Fagan, Melvin Isaacson, and Dot Lupo, board members.

Officers for the second semester were Melvin Isaacson, president; Fred Shepphird, vice-president; Dot Lupo, secretary; and Helen Carnahan, treasurer.

All of the productions were under the faculty supervision of Miss Katherine McFarland. Because of a great many conflicting dramatic events, the group was unable to present as many plays as it had planned.

Radio Speech

● Entering their eighth year of broadcasting, the radio players of Beverly continued to produce a fifteen minute dramatic show over KMPC every Saturday morning during the school year.

Completely written, directed, and acted by members of the radio speech classes, the "Norman Parade" gives valuable experience to those students who are interested in either the technical or dramatic aspects of radio production.

Among the many dramas and comedies presented during the year were "Frame-Up for Life" by Nanette Notarius and Dick LeWinter; "Between the Crosses" by Jerry Paris; "Ghost Writer" by Nanette Notarius; "Spring Symphony" by Maxine Dubin; "Living Memories" by Lynn Stalmaster; "Voice of Russia" by Dick LeWinter and Arlene Simon; and "Across the Years" by Hortense Harris.

Combining to present the radio assembly in March, the three radio classes offered "Chicago, Germany" by Arch Oboler and "Black Chapel" by Robert Bice as an example of a typical radio broadcast. Among those who participated were Maxine Dubin, Bob Fagan, Hortense Harris, Adrienne Kosches, Dick LeWinter, David Lukather, Rolf Norman, Burt Rogers, Arlene Simon, Lynn Stalmaster, and Miriam Weiss.

During the middle of the year the location of KMPC was moved from Beverly Hills to Hollywood, but the "Norman Parade" was allowed to remain on the air because of the high quality of the program.

At the close of both semesters an "Academy Awards Banquet" was held at which "Oscars" were awarded for the best leads, supporting players, script, production, and musical setting.

Miss Harriet Louise Touton, by her fine supervision of the program, contributed greatly toward its success.

Assemblies

● Written and directed by Lynn Stalmaster, who was also narrator for the program, the junior class presented its annual assembly in January. "America in Music" was the theme of the show. Several scenes depicting incidents from the lives of well-known modern composers were given, and the audience was entertained by the A Cappella Choir.

A pageant entitled "O Earth, I hear Thee Singing," written by Miss Katherine McFarland, drama coach, was presented in the Armistice Day assembly on November 10 by the drama and radio classes.

The pageant featured different scenes depicting the quest of Peace for a resting-place on earth. Bob Fagan was narrator for the show, and in the leading roles were Dick LeWinter, David Lukather, and Jerry Paris. The entire program was directed by Miss McFarland.

Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen, Johnny Weissmuller, Major Knox Manning, and Braven Dyer of the Times were among the many personalities who entertained at various assemblies.

Shakespearean Festival

● Under the direction of Miss Katherine McFarland, drama coach, the annual Shakespearean Festival was presented to the English classes of Beverly on April 20 and 21. Instead of offering scenes from several different plays as has been the custom in the past, this year's group presented a forty-five minute cutting of "Twelfth Night."

Portraying the leading roles were Bob Fagan as the Duke, David Lukather as Sebastian, Melvin Isaacson as Sir Toby, Roma Lee Friedman as Olivia, and Myrna Kirkhart as Viola. The student directors were Helen Carnahan and Bob Fagan, while Jean Siegman served as production manager.

● Featuring the orchestra, the A Cappella Choir, and the combined Girls' Glee, the annual Christmas Vesper Service was presented in December.

Various tableaux scenes depicting the Nativity were presented under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Bish. Dixie Cassill directed the combined Girls' Glee, and Lynn Stalmaster was narrator for the program. Mr. Glen M. Case was musical director for the entire production.

Christmas Program

Forensics

● Always one of the best contests of the year, the National Forensic League District tournament, which was held at Alhambra High School, brought possession of another sweepstakes award to the Beverly contingent. Frank Brown, by taking first in original oratory, qualified for the nationals, which because of the war have been discontinued. Lynn Stalmaster placed second in this same event, and Dow Carpenter won second in extempe. Third place ribbons went to Dick Sherman in humorous declamation and Frank Brown in extempe.

In March Beverly played host to a Southern California Forensic League Invitational tournament and relinquished by one point only the sweepstakes award to another school. Certificates signifying first places were awarded to Dow Carpenter in extempe, Dick LeWinter in radio acting, and Lynn Stalmaster in radio announcing. Second place honors were won by Lynn Stalmaster in original oratory, Adrienne Kosches in radio acting, and Dick Shapiro in extempe. Dick Sherman placed third in oratorical declamation, and George Eckstein took third in radio announcing.

All the members of this group have devoted a great deal of time to the task of improving themselves in public speaking. However, three members of the squad, all of them juniors, have shown exceptional ability in this field.

Frank Brown, winner of last year's Lions Club Oratorical Contest, was surpassed by no one in the state in the field of original oratory, having taken only first places in this event during the year. Frank was also outstanding in extemporaneous speaking.

Dow Carpenter proved to be one of the finest extempe speakers in Southern California, and Lynn Stalmaster was always in the winners' circle in several events.

Much of the success of this year's squad can be attributed to the excellent coaching of Miss Lorna B. M. Miller.

Forensics

● With three major sweepstakes to their credit and a highly successful season behind them, Normandy's forensic squad again faces the pleasant prospect of being named the leading National Forensic League chapter in the state.

Beginning the year with a new coach, Miss Lorna B. M. Miller, and a small group of inexperienced speakers, for the most part, the squad soon became a strong and very versatile group and has been unsurpassed during the year in the number of points won in tournaments.

The first contest of the year was the Los Angeles High School Speech Festival, at which the speech teachers of Southern California gathered to witness the varied talents of this city's students. Dow Carpenter placed first in extempe, Jerry Paris took first in dramatic declamation, and Miriam Weiss led all the other entrants in radio acting.

Traveling to Mark Keppel to participate in an invitational tournament, the squad won its first sweepstakes of the year. Frank Brown garnered his share of points with a first place in extempe and original oratory, and Lynn Stalmaster led the field in humorous declamation. Dick Shapiro won a first place in oratorical declamation and a third in extempe, and Norman Willner took third in humorous.

The campus of the University of Southern California was the scene of the second major tourney of the year, and Beverly again won the sweepstakes. Lynn Stalmaster in humorous declamation, Natacha Chapiro in dramatic declamation, Dow Carpenter in extempe, and Frank Brown in original oratory, all received first place honors in their respective divisions. Dick Sherman and Jerry Paris took third place in oratorical declamation and dramatic declamation respectively, as did Lynn Stalmaster in original oratory. The team of Thais MacKinnon and Donna Pickus won second place honors in debate and V. V. Brown and Doug Gardner won third in this same division.

Stage Crew

● Throughout the year, whenever there has been an assembly or a dramatic production, the stage crew has been at work. Under the faculty supervision of Mr. William Daywalt and the student direction of Grant Corby, the stage crew has completed another very successful year.

By means of their settings, flower arrangements, color, and good lighting, this group has attempted to make the student body more aware and appreciative of artistic values.

The members of this organization have received valuable experience in stage production work. In the process of producing sets they learn how to design scenery, build the sets, paint them, set them up, and create lighting effects for them. Stage crew members spend one class period a day at this work and they also contribute many hours of outside time.

Among the many programs for which atmosphere and scenery were created were the Christmas concert, for which an entirely new set was designed, Color Day, for which several very unusual sets were made, the Shakespearian festival, the Armistice Day assembly, graduation, and baccalaureate.

Heads of the various stage crew jobs were Grant Corby, stage manager; Frank Rantz and Fred Shepphird, electricians; Don Bailey and Duff Evans, construction; Audrey Baer and Steffi Weil, painting; Betty Mogilner and Pat Stiner, flower decorations.

Many thanks go to Mr. Daywalt for his fine supervision and direction of this group.

Vocational Conference

● Sponsored by the Beverly Hills Kiwanis Club and under the direction of the Commercial Club, the sixth annual Vocational Conference was held at Beverly the week of April 24. The conference is held to acquaint the students with the various industries and professions which they may enter. Specialists well qualified in their particular fields were invited to speak at the conference.

Opening the week's activities, James LeRoy Rosenberg, managing editor of the Inglewood Daily News, spoke on "A Glimpse Into the Future" at an all-school assembly.

On Tuesday the members of the ninth and tenth grades attended special panels. Professions, Industry and Commerce, Fine Arts, Transportation and Communication, and Government Service were the panels offered to the lower grades.

Eleventh and twelfth grade students attended panels on Law, Medicine, Teaching, Writing, Drama, Music, Engineering, Nursing, Government Service, and Industry and Commerce.

Among the speakers were Mr. E. J. Hummel, deputy superintendent of schools; Mr. John B. Long, president of the California Newspaper Publishers Association; Professor Ralph Freud, chairman of department of teachers, U.C.L.A.; Mr. Forest T. Barrett, director of school and college service, United Air Lines; and Mrs. Carol Flannagan, manager speakers' bureau, Douglas Aircraft Corporation.

Mr. Harry Alter was chairman for the event; he was assisted by ten members of the faculty. Mrs. Alberta Swallow and Mrs. Evelyn Hemman, sponsors of the Commercial Club, contributed their services.

A Cappella Choir

● Long recognized as a fine musical organization, the A Cappella Choir has contributed much to the enjoyment of the school and the community. With seventy-five voices forming the membership of the choir, this organization has become the outstanding vocal group at Beverly.

During the past two semesters their performances have been enjoyed by such organizations as the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and various Parent-Teacher Associations. The group also has participated in the Christmas concert, baccalaureate, the music department's assembly, and the annual spring concert. In May the Southern California Vocal Association Festival was held at Beverly in which the choir also participated.

Officers of the group for the fall and spring semesters were David Lukather and Bill Rogers, presidents; Bill Rogers and Ken Johnson, vice-presidents; Jackie Hamlin and Janelle Hutchins, secretaries; Charlotte Emmerling, assistant secretary; Dick Scott and Wade Tucker, librarians; Marie Baldwin and Dick Scott, assistant librarians; Ray Palange and Joe McCarthy, property managers; Georgene Ritter and Reba Lee Goldberg, publicity directors; Ray Palange and Fred Lee, student directors. The accompanist for both semesters was Mrs. Alice Jarman.

The A Cappella choir is under the able direction of Mr. Glenn M. Case, who has given untiringly of his time and effort to further the success of the group.

Glee Clubs

● For those who have not had the experience which is necessary for membership in the A Cappella choir, vocal training may be acquired in the various glee clubs. The girls' beginning glee, the girls' advanced glee, and the boys' glee all serve this purpose.

Although the members of the girls' beginning glee were almost completely without previous singing experience at the beginning of the year, they have participated in several programs recently. Officers for the year were Marilyn Silman, president; Sue Tannenbaum, vice-president; Katherine Heartman, secretary; Sue Evans, assistant secretary; Jackie Springer, librarian; Virginia Noe, assistant librarian; Pamela Slater, property manager; Katherine Gordon, assistant property manager; Ellen Kabatznick, publicity manager.

The thirty-seven members of the girls' advanced glee took part in the Christmas program, the Spring concert, and the music department's assembly. Leaders of the group for the two semesters were Dixie Cassill and Sue Evans, presidents; Nancy Savage and Margaret Cameron, vice-presidents; Charlotte de Malzeville and Jackie Springer, secretaries; Patti Lee and Jean Baker, assistant secretaries; Pat Huey, Charleen Skinner, Pamela Slater, and Marilyn Silman, librarians; Talma Tyson and Ellen Kabatznick, publicity managers; Gloria Steigerwald, Barbara Young, Eleanor Bowen, and Sue Redding, property managers.

The boys' glee was a small group this year of about twenty members. Officers were Peter Hester and Marlo Jarman, presidents; Sandy MacKinnon and Lynn Montjoy, vice-presidents; Dick Hine and Sandy MacKinnon, secretaries.

All of the glee clubs are directed by Mr. Glen M. Case.

Orchestra

● Under the able direction of Mr. Benjamin Lasky, the orchestra and band entertained the students and the community at various events during the year. Members of these organizations also gained much valuable experience by participating in these groups.

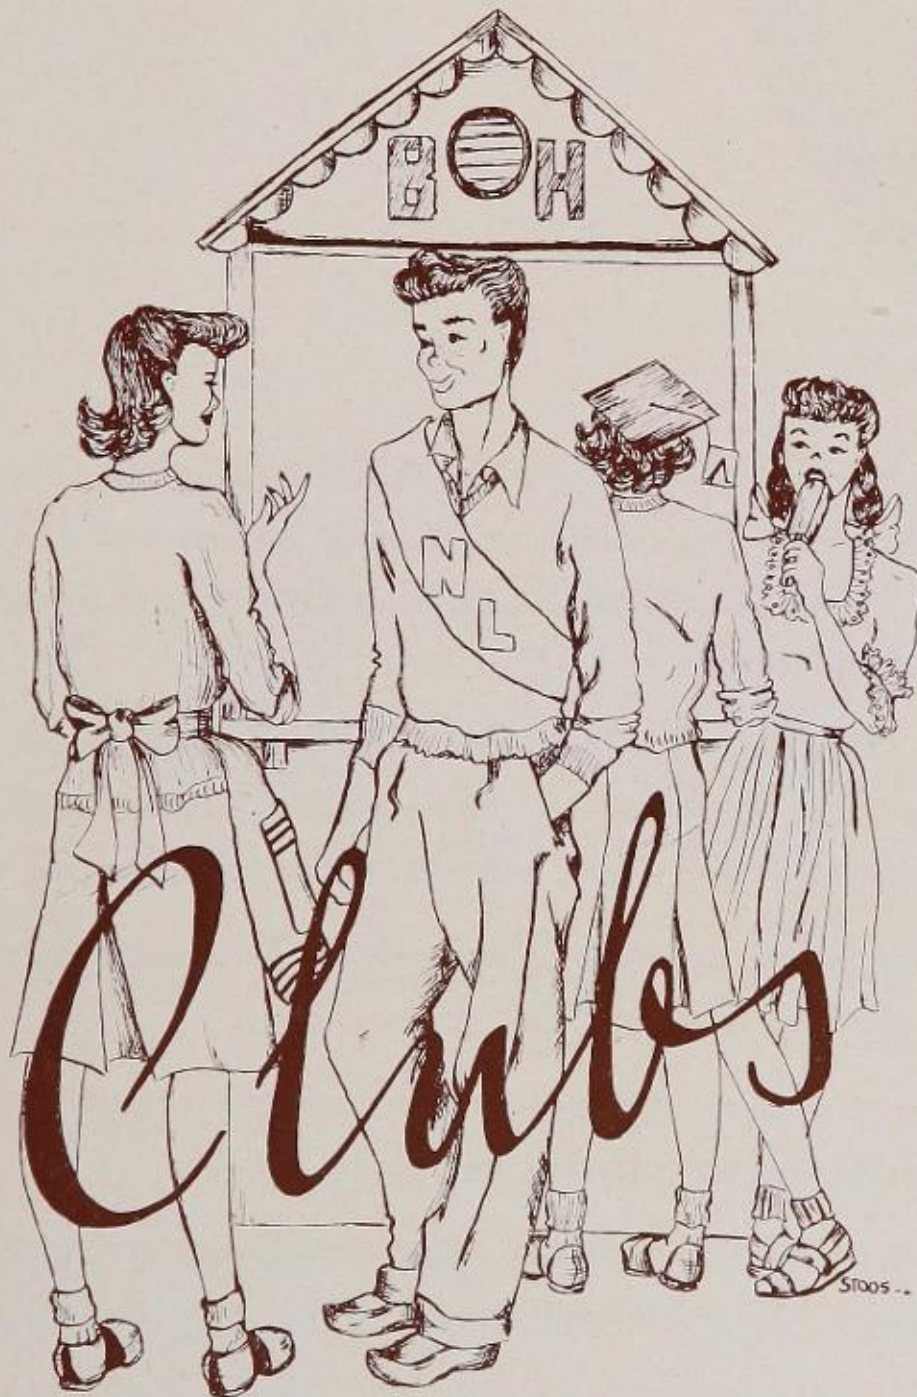

In December the orchestra joined with other school departments to present the Christmas pageant. The organization also contributed to baccalaureate and graduation services. In February three members of the orchestra—Beth Lang, Leslie Liscom, and concertmistress Thais MacKinnon—journeyed to Santa Barbara to take part in the All-Southern California High School Orchestra. Combining with the band and vocal organizations, the orchestra also participated in the annual spring concert. Officers of the orchestra were Andre Previn, manager; Leslie Liscom, assistant manager; Janet Stevenson, librarian; Priscilla Peniston, assistant librarian.

Members of the band participated in assemblies, the spring concert, and the May Day parade. Officers of the band were Gene Roche, manager; Hugh Knox, assistant manager; Janet Stevenson, librarian; John Pesterre, assistant librarian.

Alphas

● Remaining long in the memory of every girl that was ever an Alpha is the pride of belonging to this organization, for it is a sign of high scholarship, citizenship, and service to the school. The grade requirements are three recommended grades in the previous semester, and this standard must be maintained after membership.

Held at the Beverly Hills Women's Club, the Alpha dance was one of the most successful events of the year. Swinging to the strains of Art Whiting's music, this semi-formal affair enjoyed a large turnout. Another highlight in the Alpha calendar is the annual spring tea.

This year the Alphas are all out for the war effort. One day a week is set aside for the Red Cross at which time much is accomplished.

The Alpha Award, a truly coveted award, is given each year to the girl who has performed outstanding services, both to the organization and to her school.

Under the supervision of the co-sponsors, Mrs. Leah Moore and Mrs. Mary Herron, the Alphas once again have enjoyed a very successful year.

Knights

BRUCE DUBROW

● Organized on the principles of high scholarship, citizenship, and service to the school, the Knights can proudly look back on a year well done.

True to the club's tradition, this was by no means an idle year for its members. A truly inspiring assembly was sponsored by the Knights this year. It featured several "wonder" dogs and also the well known seeing-eye dogs. Quoting Bruce Dubrow, president, "The Best Dance of the Year," a semi-formal affair, was held at Cheviot Hills Country Club with Dick Allen leading the orchestra. Performing at graduation, ushering at assemblies, and raising the flag in the early morning are a few of the duties of the Knights.

Deep in the minds of every Beverly student is the Campus Clean-Up drive, for which each and every knight worked diligently.

Each semester two Knights are rewarded for their service to both the organization and the school by the presentation of the Knights' Cup and the Knight Paramount Award.

Dr. Lowell Frost is sponsor of the club, while Mr. James Lee, Mr. R. G. Mitchell, Mr. Jack Schwartz, now serving in the armed forces, and Mr. Arnold Bowhay are honorary members.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Joe Feldman and Bruce Dubrow; Secretary-treasurers, Bruce Dubrow and Tike Tinsman.

Palladians

● The Palladian Society is an honor organization for those students who have attained a high scholastic record. To become a member a student must earn a total of ten grade points. An "A" counts three points and a "B" counts one.

OFFICERS: Presidents, George Eckstein and Mary Jane Merten; Girls' Vice-president, Joan Dewan; Boys' Vice-presidents, Edwin Major and Stan Arbiter; Secretaries, Betty Stauffer and Marilyn Leite; Treasurer, June O'Keeffe.

Squires

● Honoring lower grade boys who have contributed service to the school and have the required scholarship, the Squires organization is greatly admired by the student body.

Deserving the pride which Beverly has in them, the Squires have done much in serving their school. Two of their important activities are ushering at certain school affairs and lowering the flag at the close of each school day.

An event which all the members look forward to is the semi-annual banquet, which was held this year at the Tropics. Also under the heading of good entertainment is the Squires' dance held at the end of April.

Mr. Black, sponsor, and Lou Harris and Mickey Titus, presidents, have guided this organization into another successful year on the Squires' calendar.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Lou Harris and Mickey Titus; Vice-presidents, Jim Powers; Secretary-Treasurers, Dow Carpenter and Bob Ewing.

MEMBERS: James Blakeley, Bill Boeck, Richard Brauer, Dow Carpenter, Tom Cole, Grant Corby, Richard Daniel, David Draves, Bob Ewing, Jack Fahnestock, Herbert Flam, Bill Fore, Bob Fuller, Gene Goranson, Jim Griffin, Steve Gross, Lou Harris, Rush Hinsdale, Cliff Hughes, Jerry Hummel, Bob Ivey, Marlo Jarman, Gerald Johnson, Alvin Kavich, Fred Lee, Allen Linn, Leslie Liscom, Vincent Lupo, Joe McCarthy, Giles Mead, Bart Merrill, Dick Paul, Leonard Peller, Jim Powers, John Reynolds, Richard Rex, Bob Rifkind, Dick Robbins, Paul Schwab, Harris Shirline, Lynn Stalmaster, Jerry Taft, Don Thomas, Mickey Titus, Robert Wallerstedt.

● Boasting the largest membership of any club is the International Statesmen, representative of the social studies department. The main purpose of this organization is to promote international goodwill and understanding. Through its meetings a much greater interest is stimulated in our foreign neighbors. The meetings are held monthly, at which time many different types of programs are presented. A few of these, planned by the efficient co-sponsors Mr. William Quandt and Mrs. Eleanor Welch, are motion pictures on various travels, discussions and debates on present day problems, and speakers from foreign countries.

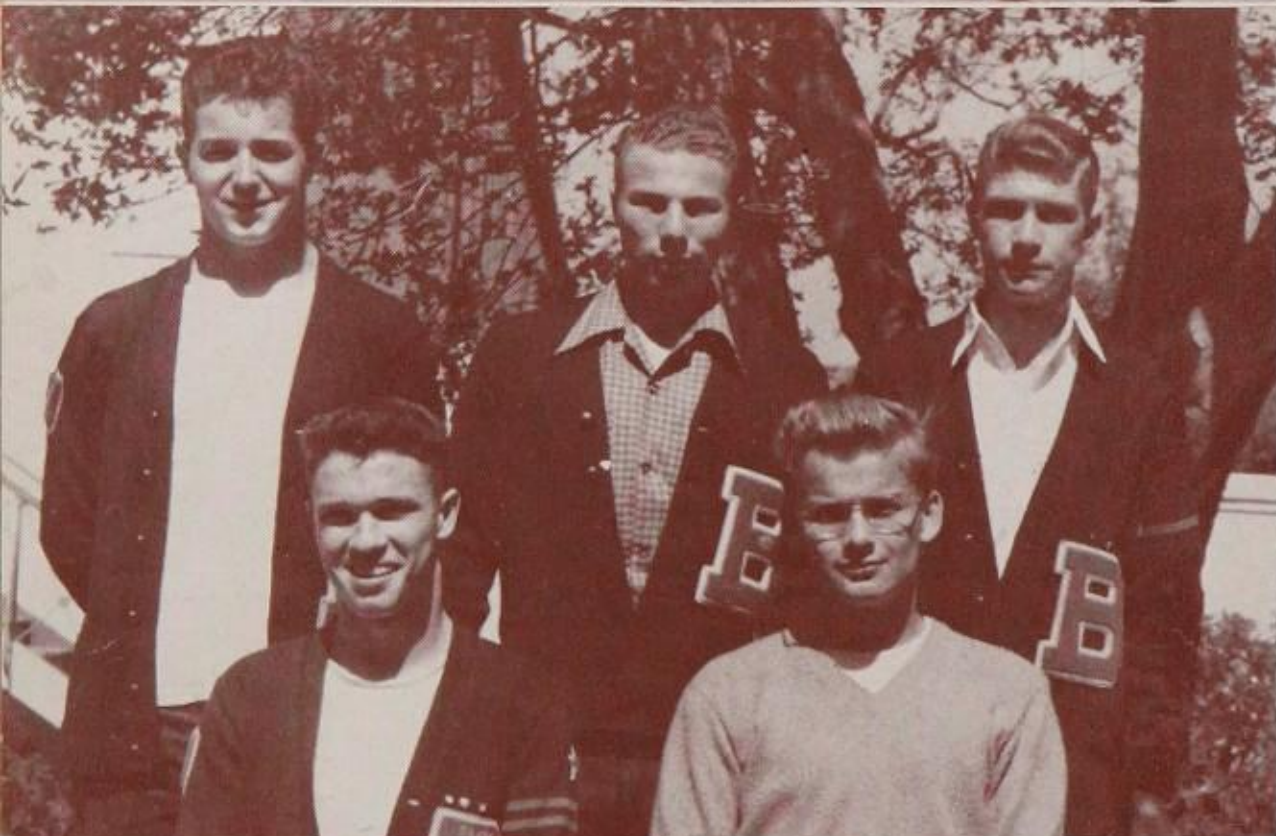

One of the biggest affairs of the year is the annual Christmas party, with a pot luck supper followed by entertainment and the traditional candle lighting ritual.

To help the soldiers who are convalescing pass the time, the International Statesmen sponsored a magazine and book drive, which was truly successful, with a net total of 5,000 magazines and books.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Bob Lucas and Marion Ancel; Vice-Presidents, Marion Ancel and Ann Brookman; Secretaries, Lorraine Currie and Jean Roesch; Treasurers, Barbara Taft and Pat McDowell.

Norman Lettermen

● With the help of its popular sponsor, Coach Harold Bacon, the Norman Lettermen Club enjoyed one of its most successful years. The boys really proved that they were Beverly's top athletes and deserved the honor bestowed upon them as members. At every main athletic event it was the Norman Lettermen who took charge of taking the tickets, guarding the exits, and seeing that everything went smoothly. It was a difficult job well done.

The Beverly Hills Women's Club was the scene of the first school dance, the Lettermen's main activity of the year. Needless to say, it started the semester off with a bang.

To become a member a fellow must have an "A" or "B" letter and be voted in by the club. No requirement as to grades is necessary.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Dave Gill and Tike Tinsman; Vice Presidents, Tike Tinsman and Marc Robert; Secretary-Treasurers Burt Rogers and Fred Swenson.

● Inspired by the wonders of the chemical world are these honorary students of Beverly High. They represent the best chemistry students of the school, who have been elected by the members on the approval of their chemistry teachers. Distributing their talents not only to our school, but to the grammar schools as well, these students have put on demonstrations which have held these lower grade pupils spellbound. Their work, which consists almost entirely of laboratory technique, has rewarded them in both knowledge and valuable experience. The main purpose is to study the advance research of chemistry and practical uses of this science. An interesting sidelight, which no alchemist will forget, is the practice of their weird initiations.

Miss Erna Schwerin heads this organization, and each member is proud to work under her expert guidance.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Lincoln Sheranian, John Redfern; Vice-presidents, John Redfern, Ladd Vincent; Secretaries, Ladd Vincent, Alden Verity; Treasurers, Ladd Vincent, Don Willardson.

Studio Club

● The Studio Club is popular because it tends to combine the talents of the art students with social activities. An example of this is the very successful Studio Club banquets. Under the guidance of its sponsors, Mrs. Margaret Bish and Mrs. Caroline Bennett, the members use their talents to carry out a special theme for each banquet.

Anyone above the ninth grade who has had a semester of art and received a B grade is eligible to join.

Four very excellent art exhibits were sponsored, giving the students a variety of talent to see and appreciate.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Ruth Stoos and Bob Jones; Vice Presidents, Roger Kennedy and Hal Clay; Secretary-Treasurers, Sheila McMillan and Claire Greenebaum.

● One of the most active clubs in the school is the Press Club. Sponsored by Mrs. Romaine Pauley, it is composed of the reporters and editors of the Highlights. The big event of each semester is the annual banquet where the recipient of the Reporter's Cup and the new Quill and Scroll members are announced and at which the next semester's editor is appointed.

This year the members of the club went en mass to the Los Angeles Times Building and saw a large city newspaper in production.

Many interesting meetings were held this semester, and a very successful swimming party was given for the whole club. All in all, it was a very satisfactory year for the Press Club.

OFFICERS: Presidents, John Barr and Frank Tours; Vice-Presidents, Joyce Liscom and Lou Harris; Secretaries, Joanne Strauss and Joyce Liscom; Treasurers, Bob Harrigan and Betty Connolly.

Press Club

● To promote a high standard of citizenship is the main purpose of the Tri-Y organizations, but they also develop a strong feeling of friendship among the girls in their respective grades. This year the organizations have been concerned chiefly with doing Red Cross work.

Red Cross Work was the main activity of the Junior Tri-Y throughout the year. The members, under the guidance of Miss Catherine McDonald, helped after school every Tuesday and Wednesday in the Red Cross Workroom.

The Senior Tri-Y, sponsored by Mrs. Cora Stevenson, spent a great deal of its time sewing and knitting. The girls also donated thirty dollars to the Red Cross from the sale of candy apples. A Christmas stocking was donated by each girl to be given to wounded soldiers.

OFFICERS OF THE SENIOR TRI-Y: Presidents, Betty Jo Fitger and Jean Roesch; Vice Presidents, Jean Roesch and Ellen Jones; Secretaries, Thora Barbe and Carolyn Wolfe; Treasurers, Mary Lu Earle and Joanne Randall.

OFFICERS OF THE JUNIOR TRI-Y: Presidents, Barbara Jeffries and Peggy MacLean; Vice Presidents, Rosemarie Swanson and Pat Burbank; Secretary-Treasurer, Gerry Olerich; Secretary, Joan Scott; Treasurer, Caroline Cady.

● Tri-Y is the local name for Girl Reserve Clubs, organized under the direct leadership of the Young Women's Christian Association.

This year the Freshman and Sophomore clubs combined and were directed by a cabinet composed of a freshman and sophomore for each office. The club activities included two interesting discussions on personality and a talent show put on by the members. Red Cross service meetings were held twice a month at which two afghans were knitted and a number of scrap books made. Sponsors of the club were Miss Martha Stavely and Miss Alida Parker.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Betty Springmeyer, Mary Downs, and Janet Hansen; Vice-Presidents, Rae Turner, Jean Bailey, and Betty Springmeyer; Secretaries, Sue Robinson, Betty Santley, and Jean Bailey; Treasurers, Ellen Potter, Sally Green, and Eleanor Knecht.

MEMBERS: Mary Lou Alden, Jean Bailey, Jean Baker, Madeline Barber, Marilyn Borden, Marcia Borie, Peggy Burbank, Joanne Butler, Milla Caldwell, Margaret Cameron, Hilde Carsten, Ann Clifford, Mary Downs, Georgianna Dusek, Susan Earle, Peggy Esacove, Sue Evans, Barbara Factor, Judy Freedman, Ann Friedman, Elliott Ann Gardner, Gloria Gitts, Myra Gitlin, Arleen Gould, Portia Graves, Eleanor Green, Sally Green, Patsy Hanna, Janet Hansen, Katherine Hartman, Marcella Haviland, Patty Hine, Joan Holloway, Nancy Jewett, Mary Jorden, Joan Junge, Ellen Kabatznick, Pat Klorer, Eleanor Knecht, Sally Kruegar, Beth Lang, Marilyn Lindsey, Gerry Mayer, Joan Morris, Margene Morris, Joyce Moss, Nancy Noble, June Oakford, Ellen Potter, Susan Redding, Judy Reynolds, Sue Robinson, Lynn Rogers, Betty Santley, Joan Schmidt, Claire Schoenfeld, Joyce Schankel, Jean Schmidt, Renee Sheranian, Marilyn Silman, Pat Silman, Betty Springmeyer, Alyce Stanley, Betty Stauffer, Sue Tannenbaum, Barbara Terman, Evelyn Thomas, Diane Tilson, Jane Treiber, Rae Turner, Patsy Van Ronkel, Barbara Verket, Bettie Watson, Jane Weiss.

● The Lektos, sponsored by Miss Frances Hurd, is an honor society composed of outstanding students chosen from each department. One member from each two hundred students is recommended by the faculty.

Commercial

● The Commercial Club consists of those members enrolled in the typing, shorthand, and other business classes. The activity of this organization is the annual Vocational Conference. It is held in the hope that it will help the students in planning their future careers.

Sharing the sponsorship are Mrs. Evelyn Hemman and Mrs. Alberta Swallow, who have guided this club through another successful year.

OFFICERS: President, Chuck Coons; Vice-president, Urbana Huffman; Secretary, Jeanne La Gree; Treasurer, Estelle Norris.

● Organized for the purpose of combining all managers of the various athletic teams into one group is the small but active Managers Club, sponsored by Mr. Charles Brown.

The main project of the past year was the selling of Coca-Cola at the Basketball Tournament, at which time over thirty dollars was earned.

OFFICERS: President, Otis Healy; Vice-president, Herb Furth; Secretary-treasurer, Art Goodman.

MEMBERS: Jim Bialac, Ronald Carpenter, Bob Fuller, Herb Furth, Art Goodman, Lou Harris, Otis Healy, Dick Holland, Bill Lancaster, Fred Swenson.

Managers

Home Economics

● The Home Economics club, with Mrs. Pyle as sponsor, has turned its resources over to helping the Red Cross. Among articles made are slippers, overseas bags, and other such useful garments.

Norman "E"

● Wearing proudly the award ribbons of orange and white are the recipients of the Norman "E." This honor is given quarterly to the students who have contributed to the school beyond the call of duty. In addition to the ribbon a letter is sent to the parents, telling them of the services rendered by their son or daughter.

Worthy students in many fields of endeavor are recognized in the presentation of this award.

First is Ross Lowell, who was awarded the ribbon for his outstanding work in the field of photography, where he devoted many hours to taking and developing pictures used by the school.

Garee Winnett had the difficult job of service editor, whose responsibility it is to keep an efficient accounting of all communications to our boys in the armed forces.

Margaret Kelly and Helen Christian both received recognition for their expert help in the attendance and main offices, respectively.

Outstanding in his work as Commissioner of Safety was Ladd Vincent, who took on this very difficult job and has handled it with great success.

David Heyler, as Commissioner of Finance, has devoted a great deal of time and effort and has been our most competent commissioner.

Carl Gebhart won the award for continued service to the school and especially for his outstanding work as one of our finest student body presidents.

As head yell leader, Mal Klein was outstanding, for he personally contributed so much to our school spirit.

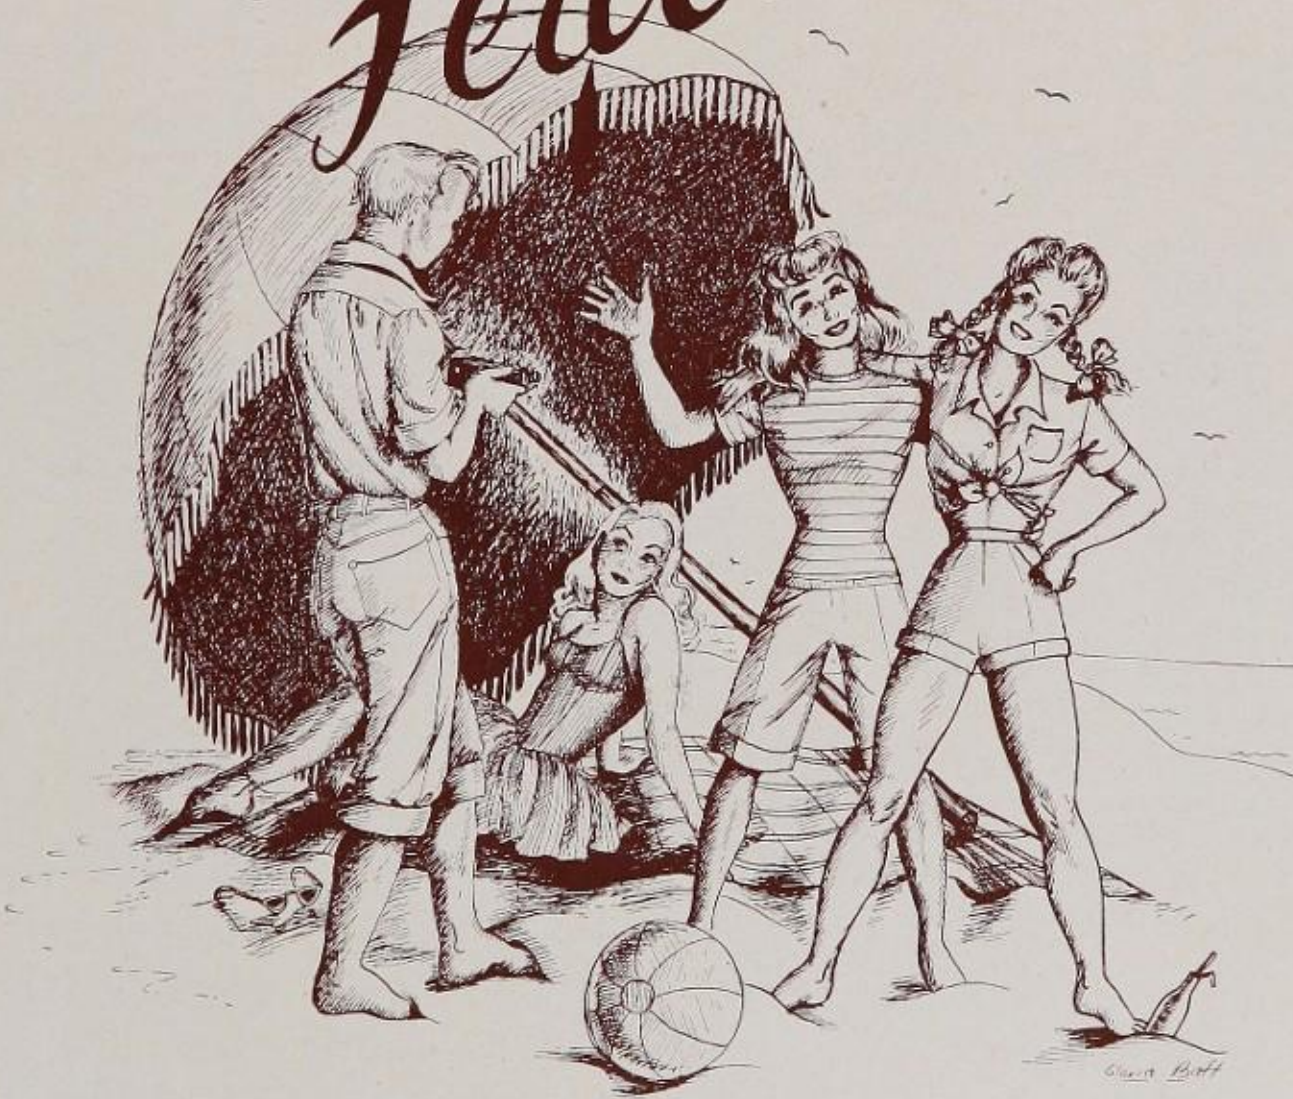

A heretofore unrewarded job was Don Davies' responsibility as editor of the student handbook, to which he devoted many extra hours.

Choosing these recipients is a student committee with Mr. K. C. Mitchell as its sponsor.

lots of luck, Dick,
Sincerely,

The Norman

You should have been voted "Best looking, most popular, and most likely to succeed." You probably miss each by only one vote. As a fellow, you're the best. As a ballplayer, I'm the best. As no kidding you are really a terrific fellow. There should be more like you.

GO, NORMANS, GO

Go, Go, Normans, Go—
Go on and hit them—that's the style.
We are behind you all the while—
We'll stand by you forever!
Fight—fight, Normans, fight—
Show us your might for the Orange and White.
We will fight together, win forever victory.
Fight on for Beverly!
Rah! Rah! Rah!

—Bill Fore, S'46

FIGHT SONG

FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT
For Beverly High,
Win the victory;
Win the fight for Orange and White,
Best in the West, we know you'll all do your best.
So On, On, On, On—
Fight to the end;
Honor and glory you must win.
So FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT
For Beverly High and victory.

Step-
you're the tops—
no foolin—
Be's always—
Bill Ward
